Upstate Hit Hard By Violent Storm

Heavy winds which swept away rain clouds, were milder here than in western New York, but left some damage in the county and other parts of the eastern region last night.

High winds, west of here, The Associated Press said, caused dozens of families to flee their homes along Lake Erie and the Niagara river.

New York Telephone Company crews were reported out on repair work today, but it was indicated that most damage was done by heavy snow and sleet. The Central Hudson Gas & Electric Corp., reported only "a couple of isolated cases" of damage.

Two days of rain totaled 2.13 inches in the city and 2.27 inches in the reservoir country west of here.

Local police nor the public works department received no calls for falling limbs or trees, but the latter received complaints of blocked sewers, and crews worked until late last night clearing them.

STORM DAMAGE affected 300 lines in the Kingston area, the telephone company said, and about 850 lines were reported out in the Monticello district. Damage by snow and sleet was reported in the Shokan and Woodstock areas of Ulster county.

Two crews were sent to Woodstock at 6 a. m., Leonard W. Herrick, local manager said. It was expected that full service would be restored today in the Kingston and Monticello areas. Crews from Poughkeepsie and Kingston were sent to the latter, 12 from here and 16 from Poughkeepsie.

Damage in the Monticello area was due to ice and high winds.

THE WEATHER BUREAU said the winds in upstate sectors occassionally went up to 60 miles

IBM in Need of Housing Now for 100 and Families

Study Plan Calls for Quick Start

Cullen Stresses Emergency Status

International Business Machines Corporation announced today a special need for community housing of students who will remain at the Kingston plant for training from four to nine months before being permanently assigned elsewhere.

Gavin A. Cullen, general manager, revealed details of the program at a dinner Tuesday evening at the Governor Clinton Hotel at which IBM Corporation was host to a number of area representatives of private housing interests, financial institutions, Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce, city and county civic leaders and officials.

The students, Cullen explained, are regular IBM employes and range in age from 20 to 24 years. They are graduates of colleges or technical schools and most are married, some with children. Their housing needs will be for single and double furnished rooms, as well as one and two bedroom furnished apartments.

It was pointed out that while the company has had very satisfactory experience at other plant locations in the community absorption of its housing need, the Kingston plans call for a much larger number of students to be brought here for training in a more concentrated period. Cullen said that approximately 100 such students and their families would have to be housed in the area within the next few months, some of whom would arrive within 30 days.

FURTHER, Cullen indicated that approximately 700 students taking training at the same time would be an average figure for the next five to six years, at least. While trainees will remain here from four to nine months, when one group finishes its work another group takes its place, so that housing need is continuous.

THE TRAINING program is being manned by approximately 75 permanent instructors who will be located here.

Cullen explained that one of the purposes of the meeting with the group last evening was to present this need and to seek the assistance of the group in presenting the problem to the public. Cullen said IBM was happy to be in Kingston and he said the community and its officials had been most cooperative and he felt sure the housing problem would be met in the same fine manner. This special need of housing for temporary residents was in addition to housing for permanent employes, that being another problem, he said.

Edward Huben, director of regional development for Central Hudson, spoke to the group

Committee Fails To Agree on Cut

Washington, March 23 (AP)—A House-Senate conference committee failed to reach agreement today on a personal income tax cut voted by the House but defeated by the Senate.

Rep. Cooper (D.-Tenn.), chairman of the conference committee, said the conflict was discussed for an hour at the first committee session but "we were unable to agree."

Cooper said the committee will meet again Friday.

ALL INDICATIONS are the drive by the House Democrats to cut everybody's income taxes next year is doomed.

Cooper said the conferees discussed "the whole proposition" for an hour. He declined to say whether any compromise moves were offered, or whether he plans to suggest a compromise Friday.

As for any strategy by House Democrats, he said, "We will post no signboard notices now."

IN THE HOUSE, Democrats pushed through, by a 210-205 vote, their plan to give a $20 annual tax cut to each taxpayer and each dependent, starting Jan. 1.

They tied this to an Eisenhower administration bill to continue corporation and excise tax rates for one more year. Under present law these rates would drop by three billion dollars a year

Hearing Is Set on New Housing

A proposed housing development on the former Brinnier property, off Kiersted avenue, will be given public hearing Tuesday at 7:30 p. m., in the city hall, the local planning board decided last night.

Kingston Park, Inc., has applied for permission to build the first two homes in a 71-lot development, and has asked the city to install street, sewer, water and other facilities in the area.

THE HEARING will be held in the planning board's office on the top floor, south side of the building.

One of the first two homes to be built will be of Cape Cod design and the other will be of split-level type. The homes will range from $15,000 to $18,000 in cost, and the average lot in the development is 70 by 90 feet.

OTHER PROJECTED developments in the uptown area are still under study by the board. One of them, by Kovan Homes, Inc., is mapped for 42 lots.

Information available here, to date, on the development off Kiersted avenue, indicates that the New York corporation is prepared to move along quickly with the project as soon as facilities are ready.

Ferry Starts On Thursday

The Kingston - Rhinecliff ferry will resume its schedule at 9 a. m., tomorrow, the N. Y. State Bridge Authority office here, announced today.

The ferry left drydock after annual repairs Tuesday and passed inspection of the U. S. Coast Guard yesterday. It operates on a 40-minute round-trip schedule leaving from here daily at 9 a. m., and making the last trip from Rhinecliff at 7 p. m. It ties up here at 7:20 p. m.

Chief Murphy Is Given Extension To June 30 Date

Fire Chief Joseph L. Murphy, who has been due to retire under age regulations, has been granted an extension until June 30, it was learned today.

The extension is the second granted to Chief Murphy through petition of the local Board of Fire Commissioners. Last fall he was given an extension of six months, which was due to expire March 31.

THE SECOND extension, it is understood, was granted by the state retirement board through consideration of the chief's participation in the June convention here of the Hudson Valley Volunteer Firemen's Association.

This year's convention will observe the 200th anniversary of the founding of volunteer fire service in the city, and plans, which have been under way for nearly a year, are aimed at making the convention and parade the most memorable in the history of the Hudson Valley Association.

Chief Murphy has been popular through his years of service in the city, county and state among both paid and volunteer firemen, and he has been active in assisting with preparations for the June convention.

Crews Are Still Removing Bodies From Plane Wreck

Honolulu, March 23 (AP)—Ground crews resume today the grim and hazardous task of removing charred bodies from the wreckage of a navy plane which slammed into a mountainside yesterday, killing all 66 persons aboard.

The remains of 21 victims were brought down the almost perpendicular slopes of the Waianae range by nightfall yesterday. Operations halted then because of the treacherous descent and heavy rains.

THE NAVY R6D crashed about 15 air miles northwest of Honolulu Tuesday in 2 a. m. darkness and rain. The plane, operating under the military air transport service was returning to Hickam Field after developing radio trouble on a flight to Travis Air Force Base, Calif.

Nine crewmen and 57 passengers perished when the four-engine plane smashed into the bare face of Pali Kea peak, about 200 feet from the top.

THE PASSENGERS had boarded in Tokyo. The crew was changed in Honolulu.

Col. Willis Bond, commander of the 150th Air Force Wing, said there was no known explanation for the tragedy. The pilot was eight miles off course, although visibility was good—despite the heavy rain—and the engines seemed to be functioning normally.

Bond said a military inquiry would be held.

EYEWITNESSES indicated the pilot saw the 2,500-foot peak just seconds before the crash. One said the pilot tried to bank away, "but it was too late."

A military guard stood watch over the burned wreckage until daylight.

Among the victims were three members of one family—a young navy man, his wife, and their 3-year-old daughter. Teleman 1/c Nathan Webb of Louisville, Ky., was bringing his family home after two years in Japan.

One serviceman missed certain death because he didn't hear the loudspeaker ask passengers to board. Pvt. Robert A. Kemp of Davenport, Iowa, was eating in the Hickam base cafeteria when the call was made.

Warnings Ordered Down

Miami, Fla., March 23 (AP)—Small craft warnings which had flown from Cape Hatteras south to the Florida Keys and up the west coast to St. Marks, Fla., were ordered taken down today by the Miami Weather Bureau. Moderate northwest winds were expected along both Florida coasts and moderate to occasionally fresh northwest winds were predicted from Cape Hatteras to Jacksonville.

Bill Passes On Viaduct, Goes to Ave

A Wicks-Wilson measure aimed at ridding the city of the Washington avenue viaduct bottleneck and making additions to the city's arterial route system, has passed both houses at Albany and has gone to Gov. Harriman, State Senator Arthur H. Wicks, reported today.

Hurley avenue and the section of Washington avenue involving the viaduct, from Hurley avenue to the Esopus Creek bridge, will be added to the arterial route system, if the bill gets final sanction.

COMMON COUNCIL action Feb. 1, asked for the additions, and before that the aldermen authorized Mayor Frederick H. Stang and Corporation Counsel James J. Abernethy to seek an order from the Public Service Commission for elimination of the structure.

Mayor Stang said today he is prepared to forward any required material or documents on the proposal as soon as the Albany measure is finally approved.

THE ARTERIAL route plan will add such streets as Broadway, Wurts and McEntee streets, to the system and give the city a traffic spur to connect with the thruway at the Route 28 interchange. The addition of Hurley avenue, would also provide an improved thruway connection here for that route.

Kingston Jewry Is To Honor Honig Sunday, April 17

A reception and cocktail party in honor of Joseph E. Honig of 309 Albany avenue, will be held at the social hall of Temple Emanuel, Abeel street, on Sunday, April 17, at 8:15 p. m.

THE GUEST SPEAKER at the reception will be Rabbi Samuel Silver of New York city, noted lecturer and editor of American Judaism who will speak on behalf of the Combined Campaign of the Union of American Hebrew Congregations, Hebrew Union College, Jewish Institute of Religion of which Rabbi Herbert I. Bloom, of Temple Emanuel, is an alumnus.

The committee on arrangements met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred D. Ronder last evening and formulated plans for the reception. Friends of Honig, of whatever religious denomination, are cordially invited to attend.

Thinks She Fell

New York, March 23 (AP)—A patrolman found 21-year-old Deirdre Cushing crawling on her hands and knees early today in the back yard of 319 West 29th street. She looked at him sheepishly, Patrolman Harold Ruger said, as she pointed to an open third-floor window and announced: 'I must have fallen." Police said Miss Cushing, a barmaid, had seated herself on the sill of a hallway window at 4:15 a. m. after discovering she had lost the key to her apartment. "I must have fallen asleep," they quoted her as saying. "The next thing I knew, I fell."

Yalta Probe Not Favored by Ike

Washington, March 23 (AP)—President Eisenhower, commenting on publication of the Yalta papers, said today there is nothing to be gained by going back 10 years to try to show whether someone may have been wrong.

The President told a news conference he personally never questions any man's motives. That was in reply to a question as to whether he believes the participants in the 1945 Yalta conference were sincere.

EISENHOWER was asked whether he believed publication of the Yalta documents by the State Department last week might "cramp the style" of the leaders of nations at any future big power conferences.

The President replied that he hoped that would not occur.

He went on to say that in time of war treaties between nations always have fallen. He said he earnestly believes that all documents dealing with such conferences should be published but that we should be exceedingly careful whenever the good faith of any of our allies is involved in the situation.

IT WAS THEN that Eisenhower added he feels there is nothing to be gained by going back 10 years, in what he called the light of after events, and showing that some one may have been wrong or right.

The Yalta conference of President Roosevelt, Premier Stalin and Prime Minister Churchill in 1945 has long been the target of Republican criticism in Congress.

Some GOP lawmakers have contended that Roosevelt made unnecessary territorial concessions to the Russians.

April 12th Is Date for Salk Data

New York, March 23 (AP)—April 12 is the date and Ann Arbor, Mich., is the place for a jury of scientists to give its verdict on the value of the Salk vaccine in preventing paralytic polio.

The announcement will be made by Dr. Thomas F. Francis Jr., of the University of Michigan, head of a team which has been analyzing the results of Salk vaccine trials involving nearly two million children.

THE APRIL 12 news conference at Ann Arbor—to answer the worldwide question of whether the Salk vaccine signals the end of polio—was announced last night. The date and place were given out jointly by Basil O'Connor, president of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, and Dr. Harlan Hatcher, president of the University of Michigan, after a conference.

O'Connor and Hatcher gave no hint whether the vaccine protects children—or how well—but there is widespread optimism that Salk vaccinations can end paralytic polio.

PHYSICIANS and scientists from all parts of the nation have been invited to the April 12 conference, which will come on the tenth anniversary of the death of the polio-stricken President Franklin D. Roosevelt.

The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis sponsored the vaccine research by Dr. Jonas E. Salk, of the University of Pittsburgh, and the extensive tests at the University of Michigan to learn how effective the vaccine may be.

IF THE REPORT on the tests is favorable and if the vaccine

Albany Avenue Site Sold To Shell for Big Station

Another development in the dynamic growth of the city's northern section was announced today with the sale of a large parcel of land on Albany avenue extension to the Shell Oil Company.

It was reported that plans would be announced shortly by the Shell Company for construction of an ultra-modern service station on the site.

The parcel, which runs for 200 feet along the east side of Albany avenue extension and is 125 feet deep, lies just south of the Amoco Distributing Company and opposite McSpirit's Motor Sales.

The West Shore railroad viaduct is located nearby and the road through Sunset Park used by employes of IBM to reach the plant about a quarter of a mile away.

The new school in Union Free School District No. 4, town of Ulster, for which bids will be solicited shortly, will be built just north of the Shell site.

Sellers of the property were A. C. Flick, Jack Shorr and R. E. Craft.

Purchase of the parcel is another indication of growing confidence in the future development of Albany avenue extension, it was pointed out by the sellers.

The parcel sold to Shell represents about one-quarter of a lot formerly owned by the Canfield Supply Company but recently purchased by Flick, Shorr and Craft.

It is rumored that negotiations are in progress for sale of the rest of the tract to another company, in a different type of business.

Recently the same interests sold a sizeable parcel a short distance to the south of the Shell property to a Kingston businessman.

Democrats Will Vote Bingo Measure Proposed by GOP

Albany, March 23 (AP)—A knot of 15 to 20 Republican assemblymen will split with the GOP majority on legalizing bingo, informed lawmakers predicted today.

But the minority leader of the Assembly said the Democrats would vote solidly in favor of the measure. That made it certain that the Legislature would stamp initial approval on the plan.

An upstate Republican bloc was expected to put up a heated scrap on the Assembly floor when the issue is brought to a vote.

A STORM of argument broke out in the Senate yesterday over the GOP proposal to make bingo legal through constitutional amendment. But a Republican-Democratic coalition bowled over the opposition of eight GOP senators. The measure was approved, 48-8.

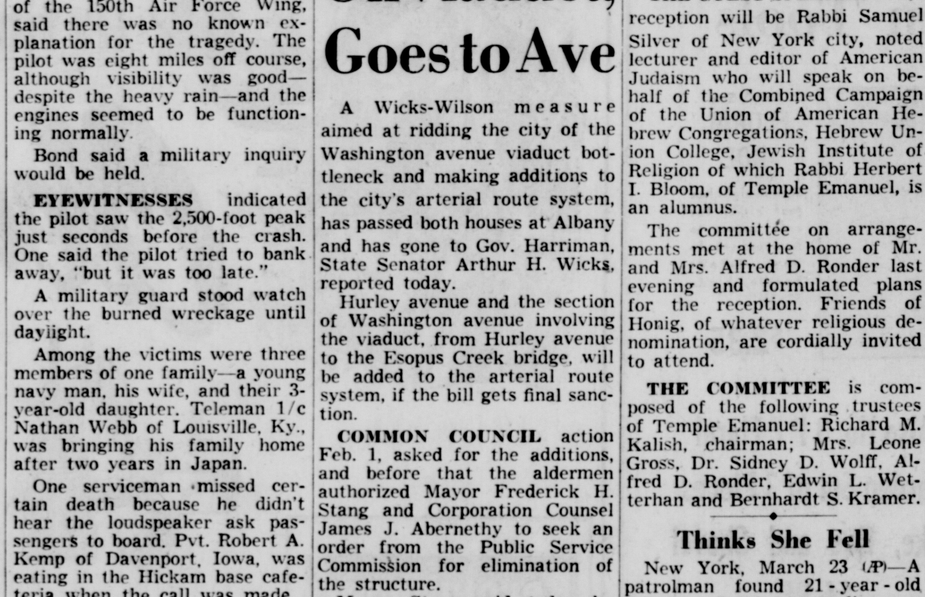

Eugene F. Bannigan, minority leader of the Assembly, told a reporter today the Democrats would vote for the GOP bill as better than none at all.

The Democrats are pressing for immediate legalization of the game by removing the penalty clauses from present laws forbidding bingo. Senate Democrats failed to bring that measure to the floor yesterday.

THE PROPOSED amendment must win the approval of two separately elected Legislatures and of the voters in a referendum before it could become law. At the earliest, bingo could be legalized by 1958.

Under the Republican proposal, localities could permit bingo with the approval of a majority of voters balloting in a local ref-

1,500 Attend Opening Of Lions' Exposition

Approximately 1,500 people visited the Kingston Lions Club Industrial Exposition and Home Show, Kingston Area on Parade, as it opened at the state armory last night with the official cutting of the ribbon by Acting Mayor Joseph Kelly.

Harry Gold, general chairman of the exposition said the number attending the show was below the usual first night figure but that "in view of the weather it was most gratifying."

The show, with its scores of interesting and unusual displays, will continue nightly through Saturday with doors open from 7 to 10:30 p. m.

Among the exhibits attracting attention were those of mobile homes, a new feature of the exposition this year. These are trailer-type homes expanded to resemble small cottages.

Guest of the evening yesterday was Dr. O. Leonard Larsen, executive director of Guide Dog Foundation for the Blind, Inc., accompanied by his dog, Sitka. Dr. Larsen also spoke at the regular meeting of the Lions Club at the Governor Clinton Hotel at noon yesterday.

Tonight's special guest will be Miss Karen Trowbridge of Kyserike, Hudson Valley Apple Pie Queen. Karen, who is 14, started her pie baking when she attended a 4-H "Pie Time" training school in Kingston three and a half years ago, at which Miss

Winds Are Milder in Local Area

Upstate Hit Hard By Violent Storm

Heavy winds which swept away rain clouds, were milder here than in western New York, but left some damage in the county and other parts of the eastern region last night.

High winds, west of here, The Associated Press said, caused dozens of families to flee their homes along Lake Erie and the Niagara river.

New York Telephone Company crews were reported out on repair work today, but it was indicated that most damage was done by heavy snow and sleet. The Central Hudson Gas & Electric Corp., reported only "a couple of isolated cases" of damage.

Two days of rain totaled 2.13 inches in the city and 2.27 inches in the reservoir country west of here.

Local police nor the public works department received no calls for falling limbs or trees, but the latter received complaints of blocked sewers, and crews worked until late last night clearing them.

STORM DAMAGE affected 300 lines in the Kingston area, the telephone company said, and about 850 lines were reported out in the Monticello district. Damage by snow and sleet was reported in the Shokan and Woodstock areas of Ulster county.

Two crews were sent to Woodstock at 6 a. m., Leonard W. Herrick, local manager said. It was expected that full service would be restored today in the Kingston and Monticello areas. Crews from Poughkeepsie and Kingston were sent to the latter, 12 from here and 16 from Poughkeepsie.

Damage in the Monticello area was due to ice and high winds.

THE WEATHER BUREAU said the winds in upstate sectors occassionally went up to 60 miles

IBM in Need of Housing Now for 100 and Families

Cullen Stresses Emergency Status

International Business Machines Corporation announced today a special need for community housing of students who will remain at the Kingston plant for training from four to nine months before being permanently assigned elsewhere.

Gavin A. Cullen, general manager, revealed details of the program at a dinner Tuesday evening at the Governor Clinton Hotel at which IBM Corporation was host to a number of area representatives of private housing interests, financial institutions, Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce, city and county civic leaders and officials.

The students, Cullen explained, are regular IBM employes and range in age from 20 to 24 years. They are graduates of colleges or technical schools and most are married, some with children. Their housing needs will be for single and double furnished rooms, as well as one and two bedroom furnished apartments.

It was pointed out that while the company has had very satisfactory experience at other plant locations in the community absorption of its housing need, the Kingston plans call for a much larger number of students to be brought here for training in a more concentrated period. Cullen said that approximately 100 such students and their families would have to be housed in the area within the next few months, some of whom would arrive within 30 days.

FURTHER, Cullen indicated that approximately 700 students taking training at the same time would be an average figure for the next five to six years, at least. While trainees will remain here from four to nine months, when one group finishes its work another group takes its place, so that housing need is continuous.

THE TRAINING program is being manned by approximately 75 permanent instructors who will be located here.

Cullen explained that one of the purposes of the meeting with the group last evening was to present this need and to seek the assistance of the group in presenting the problem to the public. Cullen said IBM was happy to be in Kingston and he said the community and its officials had been most cooperative and he felt sure the housing problem would be met in the same fine manner. This special need of housing for temporary residents was in addition to housing for permanent employes, that being another problem, he said.

Committee Fails To Agree on Cut

Washington, March 23 (AP)—A House-Senate conference committee failed to reach agreement today on a personal income tax cut voted by the House but defeated by the Senate.

Rep. Cooper (D.-Tenn.), chairman of the conference committee, said the conflict was discussed for an hour at the first committee session but "we were unable to agree."

Cooper said the committee will meet again Friday.

ALL INDICATIONS are the drive by the House Democrats to cut everybody's income taxes next year is doomed.

Cooper said the conferees discussed "the whole proposition" for an hour. He declined to say whether any compromise moves were offered, or whether he plans to suggest a compromise Friday.

As for any strategy by House Democrats, he said, "We will post no signboard notices now."

IN THE HOUSE, Democrats pushed through, by a 210-205 vote, their plan to give a $20 annual tax cut to each taxpayer and each dependent, starting Jan. 1.

They tied this to an Eisenhower administration bill to continue corporation and excise tax rates for one more year. Under present law these rates would drop by three billion dollars a year

Hearing Is Set on New Housing

A proposed housing development on the former Brinnier property, off Kiersted avenue, will be given public hearing Tuesday at 7:30 p. m., in the city hall, the local planning board decided last night.

Kingston Park, Inc., has applied for permission to build the first two homes in a 71-lot development, and has asked the city to install street, sewer, water and other facilities in the area.

THE HEARING will be held in the planning board's office on the top floor, south side of the building.

One of the first two homes to be built will be of Cape Cod design and the other will be of split-level type. The homes will range from $15,000 to $18,000 in cost, and the average lot in the development is 70 by 90 feet.

OTHER PROJECTED developments in the uptown area are still under study by the board. One of them, by Kovan Homes, Inc., is mapped for 42 lots.

Information available here, to date, on the development off Kiersted avenue, indicates that the New York corporation is prepared to move along quickly with the project as soon as facilities are ready.

Ferry Starts On Thursday

The Kingston - Rhinecliff ferry will resume its schedule at 9 a. m., tomorrow, the N. Y. State Bridge Authority office here, announced today.

The ferry left drydock after annual repairs Tuesday and passed inspection of the U. S. Coast Guard yesterday. It operates on a 40-minute round-trip schedule leaving from here daily at 9 a. m., and making the last trip from Rhinecliff at 7 p. m. It ties up here at 7:20 p. m.

Chief Murphy Is Given Extension To June 30 Date

Fire Chief Joseph L. Murphy, who has been due to retire under age regulations, has been granted an extension until June 30, it was learned today.

The extension is the second granted to Chief Murphy through petition of the local Board of Fire Commissioners. Last fall he was given an extension of six months, which was due to expire March 31.

THE SECOND extension, it is understood, was granted by the state retirement board through consideration of the chief's participation in the June convention here of the Hudson Valley Volunteer Firemen's Association.

This year's convention will observe the 200th anniversary of the founding of volunteer fire service in the city, and plans, which have been under way for nearly a year, are aimed at making the convention and parade the most memorable in the history of the Hudson Valley Association.

Chief Murphy has been popular through his years of service in the city, county and state among both paid and volunteer firemen, and he has been active in assisting with preparations for the June convention.

Crews Are Still Removing Bodies From Plane Wreck

Honolulu, March 23 (AP)—Ground crews resume today the grim and hazardous task of removing charred bodies from the wreckage of a navy plane which slammed into a mountainside yesterday, killing all 66 persons aboard.

The remains of 21 victims were brought down the almost perpendicular slopes of the Waianae range by nightfall yesterday. Operations halted then because of the treacherous descent and heavy rains.

THE NAVY R6D crashed about 15 air miles northwest of Honolulu Tuesday in 2 a. m. darkness and rain. The plane, operating under the military air transport service was returning to Hickam Field after developing radio trouble on a flight to Travis Air Force Base, Calif.

Nine crewmen and 57 passengers perished when the four-engine plane smashed into the bare face of Pali Kea peak, about 200 feet from the top.

THE PASSENGERS had boarded in Tokyo. The crew was changed in Honolulu.

Col. Willis Bond, commander of the 150th Air Force Wing, said there was no known explanation for the tragedy. The pilot was eight miles off course, although visibility was good—despite the heavy rain—and the engines seemed to be functioning normally.

Bond said a military inquiry would be held.

EYEWITNESSES indicated the pilot saw the 2,500-foot peak just seconds before the crash. One said the pilot tried to bank away, "but it was too late."

A military guard stood watch over the burned wreckage until daylight.

Among the victims were three members of one family—a young navy man, his wife, and their 3-year-old daughter. Teleman 1/c Nathan Webb of Louisville, Ky., was bringing his family home after two years in Japan.

One serviceman missed certain death because he didn't hear the loudspeaker ask passengers to board. Pvt. Robert A. Kemp of Davenport, Iowa, was eating in the Hickam base cafeteria when the call was made.

Warnings Ordered Down

Miami, Fla., March 23 (AP)—Small craft warnings which had flown from Cape Hatteras south to the Florida Keys and up the west coast to St. Marks, Fla., were ordered taken down today by the Miami Weather Bureau. Moderate northwest winds were expected along both Florida coasts and moderate to occasionally fresh northwest winds were predicted from Cape Hatteras to Jacksonville.

Bill Passes On Viaduct, Goes to Ave

A Wicks-Wilson measure aimed at ridding the city of the Washington avenue viaduct bottleneck and making additions to the city's arterial route system, has passed both houses at Albany and has gone to Gov. Harriman, State Senator Arthur H. Wicks, reported today.

Hurley avenue and the section of Washington avenue involving the viaduct, from Hurley avenue to the Esopus Creek bridge, will be added to the arterial route system, if the bill gets final sanction.

COMMON COUNCIL action Feb. 1, asked for the additions, and before that the aldermen authorized Mayor Frederick H. Stang and Corporation Counsel James J. Abernethy to seek an order from the Public Service Commission for elimination of the structure.

Mayor Stang said today he is prepared to forward any required material or documents on the proposal as soon as the Albany measure is finally approved.

THE ARTERIAL route plan will add such streets as Broadway, Wurts and McEntee streets, to the system and give the city a traffic spur to connect with the thruway at the Route 28 interchange. The addition of Hurley avenue, would also provide an improved thruway connection here for that route.

Kingston Jewry Is To Honor Honig Sunday, April 17

A reception and cocktail party in honor of Joseph E. Honig of 309 Albany avenue, will be held at the social hall of Temple Emanuel, Abeel street, on Sunday, April 17, at 8:15 p. m.

Honig, a leader in the business, civic and philanthropic spheres of American activity, has for many years been a pillar of strength to the Reform Jewish movement. His many friends wish to honor him for his dedicated leadership in the advancement of American Liberal Judaism.

THE GUEST SPEAKER at the reception will be Rabbi Samuel Silver of New York city, noted lecturer and editor of American Judaism who will speak on behalf of the Combined Campaign of the Union of American Hebrew Congregations, Hebrew Union College, Jewish Institute of Religion of which Rabbi Herbert I. Bloom, of Temple Emanuel, is an alumnus.

The committee on arrangements met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred D. Ronder last evening and formulated plans for the reception. Friends of Honig, of whatever religious denomination, are cordially invited to attend.

Thinks She Fell

New York, March 23 (AP)—A patrolman found 21-year-old Deirdre Cushing crawling on her hands and knees early today in the back yard of 319 West 29th street. She looked at him sheepishly, Patrolman Harold Ruger said, as she pointed to an open third-floor window and announced: 'I must have fallen." Police said Miss Cushing, a barmaid, had seated herself on the sill of a hallway window at 4:15 a. m. after discovering she had lost the key to her apartment. "I must have fallen asleep," they quoted her as saying. "The next thing I knew, I fell."

Yalta Probe Not Favored by Ike

Washington, March 23 (AP)—President Eisenhower, commenting on publication of the Yalta papers, said today there is nothing to be gained by going back 10 years to try to show whether someone may have been wrong.

The President told a news conference he personally never questions any man's motives. That was in reply to a question as to whether he believes the participants in the 1945 Yalta conference were sincere.

EISENHOWER was asked whether he believed publication of the Yalta documents by the State Department last week might "cramp the style" of the leaders of nations at any future big power conferences.

The President replied that he hoped that would not occur.

He went on to say that in time of war treaties between nations always have fallen. He said he earnestly believes that all documents dealing with such conferences should be published but that we should be exceedingly careful whenever the good faith of any of our allies is involved in the situation.

IT WAS THEN that Eisenhower added he feels there is nothing to be gained by going back 10 years, in what he called the light of after events, and showing that some one may have been wrong or right.

The Yalta conference of President Roosevelt, Premier Stalin and Prime Minister Churchill in 1945 has long been the target of Republican criticism in Congress.

Some GOP lawmakers have contended that Roosevelt made unnecessary territorial concessions to the Russians.

April 12th Is Date for Salk Data

New York, March 23 (AP)—April 12 is the date and Ann Arbor, Mich., is the place for a jury of scientists to give its verdict on the value of the Salk vaccine in preventing paralytic polio.

The announcement will be made by Dr. Thomas F. Francis Jr., of the University of Michigan, head of a team which has been analyzing the results of Salk vaccine trials involving nearly two million children.

THE APRIL 12 news conference at Ann Arbor—to answer the worldwide question of whether the Salk vaccine signals the end of polio—was announced last night. The date and place were given out jointly by Basil O'Connor, president of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, and Dr. Harlan Hatcher, president of the University of Michigan, after a conference.

O'Connor and Hatcher gave no hint whether the vaccine protects children—or how well—but there is widespread optimism that Salk vaccinations can end paralytic polio.

PHYSICIANS and scientists from all parts of the nation have been invited to the April 12 conference, which will come on the tenth anniversary of the death of the polio-stricken President Franklin D. Roosevelt.

The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis sponsored the vaccine research by Dr. Jonas E. Salk, of the University of Pittsburgh, and the extensive tests at the University of Michigan to learn how effective the vaccine may be.

IF THE REPORT on the tests is favorable and if the vaccine

Albany Avenue Site Sold To Shell for Big Station

Another development in the dynamic growth of the city's northern section was announced today with the sale of a large parcel of land on Albany avenue extension to the Shell Oil Company.

It was reported that plans would be announced shortly by the Shell Company for construction of an ultra-modern service station on the site.

The parcel, which runs for 200 feet along the east side of Albany avenue extension and is 125 feet deep, lies just south of the Amoco Distributing Company and opposite McSpirit's Motor Sales.

The West Shore railroad viaduct is located nearby and the road through Sunset Park used by employes of IBM to reach the plant about a quarter of a mile away.

The new school in Union Free School District No. 4, town of Ulster, for which bids will be solicited shortly, will be built just north of the Shell site.

Sellers of the property were A. C. Flick, Jack Shorr and R. E. Craft.

Purchase of the parcel is another indication of growing confidence in the future development of Albany avenue extension, it was pointed out by the sellers.

The parcel sold to Shell represents about one-quarter of a lot formerly owned by the Canfield Supply Company but recently purchased by Flick, Shorr and Craft.

It is rumored that negotiations are in progress for sale of the rest of the tract to another company, in a different type of business.

Democrats Will Vote Bingo Measure Proposed by GOP

Albany, March 23 (AP)—A knot of 15 to 20 Republican assemblymen will split with the GOP majority on legalizing bingo, informed lawmakers predicted today.

But the minority leader of the Assembly said the Democrats would vote solidly in favor of the measure. That made it certain that the Legislature would stamp initial approval on the plan.

An upstate Republican bloc was expected to put up a heated scrap on the Assembly floor when the issue is brought to a vote.

A STORM of argument broke out in the Senate yesterday over the GOP proposal to make bingo legal through constitutional amendment. But a Republican-Democratic coalition bowled over the opposition of eight GOP senators. The measure was approved, 48-8.

Eugene F. Bannigan, minority leader of the Assembly, told a reporter today the Democrats would vote for the GOP bill as better than none at all.

The Democrats are pressing for immediate legalization of the game by removing the penalty clauses from present laws forbidding bingo. Senate Democrats failed to bring that measure to the floor yesterday.

THE PROPOSED amendment must win the approval of two separately elected Legislatures and of the voters in a referendum before it could become law. At the earliest, bingo could be legalized by 1958.

Under the Republican proposal, localities could permit bingo with the approval of a majority of voters balloting in a local ref-

1,500 Attend Opening Of Lions' Exposition

Approximately 1,500 people visited the Kingston Lions Club Industrial Exposition and Home Show, Kingston Area on Parade, as it opened at the state armory last night with the official cutting of the ribbon by Acting Mayor Joseph Kelly.

Harry Gold, general chairman of the exposition said the number attending the show was below the usual first night figure but that "in view of the weather it was most gratifying."

The show, with its scores of interesting and unusual displays, will continue nightly through Saturday with doors open from 7 to 10:30 p. m.

Among the exhibits attracting attention were those of mobile homes, a new feature of the exposition this year. These are trailer-type homes expanded to resemble small cottages.

Guest of the evening yesterday was Dr. O. Leonard Larsen, executive director of Guide Dog Foundation for the Blind, Inc., accompanied by his dog, Sitka. Dr. Larsen also spoke at the regular meeting of the Lions Club at the Governor Clinton Hotel at noon yesterday.

Tonight's special guest will be Miss Karen Trowbridge of Kyserike, Hudson Valley Apple Pie Queen. Karen, who is 14, started her pie baking when she attended a 4-H "Pie Time" training school in Kingston three and a half years ago, at which Miss

Comptroller Ponders Census To Figure Per Capita Aid

Albany, March 23 (AP)—Comptroller Arthur Levitt said today he was considering a state census to provide up-to-date figures for apportioning per capita state aid.

The law requires that such aid be distributed to localities on the basis of the 1950 federal census. Levitt said some communities had shown "startling increases" in population since then.

Levitt said that suburbs of cities like Buffalo, Rochester, Syracuse and New York had grown fast, and that the population of some had more than doubled.

POPULATION has begun to soar in St. Lawrence and Jefferson counties in anticipation of jobs on the St. Lawrence Seaway and power project, Levitt said.

Revival of the state census, last taken in 1925 when Alfred E. Smith was governor, is under consideration, he said.

A complete census would entail considerable expense and require legislative action, Levitt noted.

However, he added, "it would provide local governments in the state with up-to-date figures on population for planning community services, particularly in the field of education and school building construction."

LEVITT CITED Massapequa Park in Nassau county as an example of mushrooming population. The village is within commuting distance of New York city.

"We talked with a delegation from Massapequa Park and learned that its population, only 2,334 in 1950, had climbed to 11,134 last summer, with every sign that it would reach 22,000 by 1957," Levitt said.

The comptroller noted that Nassau county redistributed the per capita aid among the villages partly on the basis of realty valuation. Thus, rapidly growing villages receive a higher share of the county's total grant.

The per capita grant, one of several types of state aid, is the only one not earmarked for a particular public service, such as education, health and welfare. More than 60 per cent of all state revenues return to the localities in some form of state aid.

Farms Join Cities

Grand Rapids, Mich. (AP)—Prof. Arthur Mauch of Michigan State College says scientific research in agriculture has changed farming from a "way of life to a way of making a living." The city limits sign today is merely a tax boundary, the professor says. "It is no longer a cultural boundary, a recreational, educational, social or economic boundary. The same kind of people live on one side as on the other. "The country 'hick' of a generation or two ago has almost disappeared from the American scene."

AMERICAN MENU

Roast Leg of Lamb Is Popular for Easter Dinner

ROAST LEG OF LAMB, surrounded by Easter bonnets, is popular for Easter dinner.

Spring lamb for Easter, that's the choice in many families. It was in ours when we were young and we still remember our mother ordering the Easter lamb weeks in advance.

Leg of lamb is the prize Easter roast. But smaller families may choose a lamb shoulder roast or a boned and rolled cut, sized just right for the number to be served. A "rack" of lamb is a generous roast that usually is cut into the flavorful rib chops.

Roast the leg of lamb, fat side up, on a rack in an open pan. A roast meat thermometer inserted in the thickest section of the meat is an accurate guide to doneness of the roast. For well-done lamb, roast to an internal temperature of 182 degrees F. 170 degrees indicates medium.

Have the "fell" or paper-like outer covering removed before roasting. Rub the meat well with honey for a beautiful golden brown and flavor accent. We like a few tiny slivers of garlic inserted deep in the meat before roasting. The French like a subtle touch of nutmeg on the roast.

Garnish the Easter platter with gala edible bonnets made of thin slices of yellow turnip topped with halves of hard-cooked eggs. Small circles of carrots make the flower trim and are fastened to the turnip slice and egg with food picks.

Leg of Lamb With Herb Bouquet
(12 to 14 slices)
(Cooking time: 3 to 3½ hours)

Season this roast early to enjoy the fine flavor.

One 5-to-6-pound leg of lamb, trimmed, 1 teaspoon rosemary, 2 tablespoons salad oil, ½ teaspoon dried sweet basil, 1 tablespoon paprika, 1 clove garlic, peeled, mashed; 1 glass mint jelly.

Combine rosemary, salad oil, sweet basil and paprika. If the fell has not been removed, use a paring knife to cut and pull it from the top of the leg. Rub the leg thoroughly with the seasoned oil. Let the roast stand in the refrigerator two to four hours before roasting.

Place leg of lamb fat side up on a rack in a roasting pan. Roast in a slow oven (325 degrees F.) 2½ hours. Spread half a glass of mint jelly over the surface. Continue roasting about another hour. Spread remaining jelly over roast. Serve medium (175 degrees F.) or well done (182 degrees F.).

EASTER DINNER: Avocado and grapefruit cup, roast leg of spring lamb with herb bouquet, currant jelly, roasted potatoes, fresh peas with mushrooms, assorted rolls, butter or margarine, mixed green salad, French dressing, lemon meringue tarts, coffee, tea, milk.

It is normal for a child to be far sighted when he starts school says the Better Vision Institute.

Brewster Man Held On Smuggling Charge

New York, March 23 (AP)—U. S. customs agents arrested Alex Pruzan when he arrived on the liner United States yesterday. They charged him with trying to smuggle in an estimated $80,000 worth of watches, watch movements and perfume.

Frank Loughlin, assistant collector of customs said 8,470 movements, 40 complete watches and 347 bottles of perfume were seized.

Loughlin said routine checking by customs agents uncovered the contraband.

Pruzan, 56, was held in $5,000 bail, pending grand jury action, by U. S. Commissioner Earle N. Bishopp. He gave his address as 8 Hoyt street, Brewster, N. Y., and said he was an exporter of dry cleaning machinery.

Company Applies For Atom Plant

New York, March 23 (AP)—The Consolidated Edison Co. of New York has announced an application to the Atomic Energy Commission for authority to build and operate a nuclear reactor for the generation of electricity at Indian Point in suburban Westchester county.

The utility firm, in announcing that the application was filed in Washington yesterday, noted that its board of trustees recently authorized expenditure of 55 million dollars for the project. This includes buildings and electrical and auxiliary equipment.

THE COMPANY last Friday entered into a contract with Babcock & Wilcox to design and construct the reactor portion of the project.

The company added this footnote to its announcement:

"Since this is believed to be the first application of its kind under the Atomic Energy Act of 1954, there are no precedents for release of information. Therefore, the company will not release any of the data contained in the application until the AEC has had an opportunity to examine the document."

Will Continue Pay

Norwich, March 23 (AP)—City aldermen, reversing themselves, have voted to continue their $600-a-year salaries. Two weeks ago the City Council had voted to abolish the salaries, effective June 1. Last night, after City Attorney James W. Coleman said the council could not change salaries without a referendum, the aldermen voted 4-1 to retain them.

Comptroller Ponders Census To Figure Per Capita Aid

Albany, March 23 (AP)—Comptroller Arthur Levitt said today he was considering a state census to provide up-to-date figures for apportioning per capita state aid.

The law requires that such aid be distributed to localities on the basis of the 1950 federal census. Levitt said some communities had shown "startling increases" in population since then.

Levitt said that suburbs of cities like Buffalo, Rochester, Syracuse and New York had grown fast, and that the population of some had more than doubled.

POPULATION has begun to soar in St. Lawrence and Jefferson counties in anticipation of jobs on the St. Lawrence Seaway and power project, Levitt said.

Revival of the state census, last taken in 1925 when Alfred E. Smith was governor, is under consideration, he said.

A complete census would entail considerable expense and require legislative action, Levitt noted.

However, he added, "it would provide local governments in the state with up-to-date figures on population for planning community services, particularly in the field of education and school building construction."

LEVITT CITED Massapequa Park in Nassau county as an example of mushrooming population. The village is within commuting distance of New York city.

"We talked with a delegation from Massapequa Park and learned that its population, only 2,334 in 1950, had climbed to 11,134 last summer, with every sign that it would reach 22,000 by 1957," Levitt said.

The comptroller noted that Nassau county redistributed the per capita aid among the villages partly on the basis of realty valuation. Thus, rapidly growing villages receive a higher share of the county's total grant.

The per capita grant, one of several types of state aid, is the only one not earmarked for a particular public service, such as education, health and welfare. More than 60 per cent of all state revenues return to the localities in some form of state aid.

Farms Join Cities

Grand Rapids, Mich. (AP)—Prof. Arthur Mauch of Michigan State College says scientific research in agriculture has changed farming from a "way of life to a way of making a living." The city limits sign today is merely a tax boundary, the professor says. "It is no longer a cultural boundary, a recreational, educational, social or economic boundary. The same kind of people live on one side as on the other. "The country 'hick' of a generation or two ago has almost disappeared from the American scene."

AMERICAN MENU

Roast Leg of Lamb Is Popular for Easter Dinner

ROAST LEG OF LAMB, surrounded by Easter bonnets, is popular for Easter dinner.

Spring lamb for Easter, that's the choice in many families. It was in ours when we were young and we still remember our mother ordering the Easter lamb weeks in advance.

Leg of lamb is the prize Easter roast. But smaller families may choose a lamb shoulder roast or a boned and rolled cut, sized just right for the number to be served. A "rack" of lamb is a generous roast that usually is cut into the flavorful rib chops.

Roast the leg of lamb, fat side up, on a rack in an open pan. A roast meat thermometer inserted in the thickest section of the meat is an accurate guide to doneness of the roast. For well-done lamb, roast to an internal temperature of 182 degrees F. 170 degrees indicates medium.

Have the "fell" or paper-like outer covering removed before roasting. Rub the meat well with honey for a beautiful golden brown and flavor accent. We like a few tiny slivers of garlic inserted deep in the meat before roasting. The French like a subtle touch of nutmeg on the roast.

Garnish the Easter platter with gala edible bonnets made of thin slices of yellow turnip topped with halves of hard-cooked eggs. Small circles of carrots make the flower trim and are fastened to the turnip slice and egg with food picks.

Leg of Lamb With Herb Bouquet
(12 to 14 slices)
(Cooking time: 3 to 3½ hours)

Season this roast early to enjoy the fine flavor.

One 5-to-6-pound leg of lamb, trimmed, 1 teaspoon rosemary, 2 tablespoons salad oil, ½ teaspoon dried sweet basil, 1 tablespoon paprika, 1 clove garlic, peeled, mashed; 1 glass mint jelly.

Combine rosemary, salad oil, sweet basil and paprika. If the fell has not been removed, use a paring knife to cut and pull it from the top of the leg. Rub the leg thoroughly with the seasoned oil. Let the roast stand in the refrigerator two to four hours before roasting.

Place leg of lamb fat side up on a rack in a roasting pan. Roast in a slow oven (325 degrees F.) 2½ hours. Spread half a glass of mint jelly over the surface. Continue roasting about another hour. Spread remaining jelly over roast. Serve medium (175 degrees F.) or well done (182 degrees F.).

EASTER DINNER: Avocado and grapefruit cup, roast leg of spring lamb with herb bouquet, currant jelly, roasted potatoes, fresh peas with mushrooms, assorted rolls, butter or margarine, mixed green salad, French dressing, lemon meringue tarts, coffee, tea, milk.

Brewster Man Held On Smuggling Charge

New York, March 23 (AP)—U. S. customs agents arrested Alex Pruzan when he arrived on the liner United States yesterday. They charged him with trying to smuggle in an estimated $80,000 worth of watches, watch movements and perfume.

Frank Loughlin, assistant collector of customs said 8,470 movements, 40 complete watches and 347 bottles of perfume were seized.

Loughlin said routine checking by customs agents uncovered the contraband.

Pruzan, 56, was held in $5,000 bail, pending grand jury action, by U. S. Commissioner Earle N. Bishopp. He gave his address as 8 Hoyt street, Brewster, N. Y., and said he was an exporter of dry cleaning machinery.

Company Applies For Atom Plant

New York, March 23 (AP)—The Consolidated Edison Co. of New York has announced an application to the Atomic Energy Commission for authority to build and operate a nuclear reactor for the generation of electricity at Indian Point in suburban Westchester county.

The utility firm, in announcing that the application was filed in Washington yesterday, noted that its board of trustees recently authorized expenditure of 55 million dollars for the project. This includes buildings and electrical and auxiliary equipment.

THE COMPANY last Friday entered into a contract with Babcock & Wilcox to design and construct the reactor portion of the project.

The company added this footnote to its announcement:

"Since this is believed to be the first application of its kind under the Atomic Energy Act of 1954, there are no precedents for release of information. Therefore, the company will not release any of the data contained in the application until the AEC has had an opportunity to examine the document."

Will Continue Pay

Norwich, March 23 (AP)—City aldermen, reversing themselves, have voted to continue their $600-a-year salaries. Two weeks ago the City Council had voted to abolish the salaries, effective June 1. Last night, after City Attorney James W. Coleman said the council could not change salaries without a referendum, the aldermen voted 4-1 to retain them.

EASTER SEAL APPEAL

With the Easter season upon us, we'd like to remind you of a way you can bring its spirit alive by giving new life and hope to crippled children.

The way is simple: The cause of crippled children will reach millions of Americans during the month-long 1955 Easter Seal Appeal, which runs this year from March 10 to April 10.

Early in this period you will probably receive a letter containing the traditional Easter Seals in the mail. Your contribution will help see to it that diagnostic clinics, rehabilitation centers, camps, convalescent hospitals, treatment and training centers, special classes, and sheltered workshops are maintained and expanded to serve more and more children as their needs increase.

Through this Appeal, then, comes a far-reaching opportunity to assure the continuation and expansion of medical care, therapy, recreation and special education services which are provided throughout the Empire State by your Easter Seal Society, the New York State Association for Crippled Children.

If you do not receive Seals in the mail you may still give—by enclosing your gift and sending it to Crippled Children, in care of your local Postmaster.

The handicapped child needs your help now so that he may help himself later. You can give real meaning to this season of hope by answering the Easter Seal Appeal.

LONG YEARS OF SERVICE

This year the Salvation Army is celebrating three-quarters of a century of service to God and man in the United States. The first expedition of the Army landed in New York in 1880 and proceeded to carry out its work where misery and squalor was at its worst.

From its humble beginnings in this country the Salvation Army has grown into one of our most respected and effective religious and social service organizations. That this is so is the result of the tireless work, the dedication and the faith of those in its ranks.

The very poor, the confused, the victims of disaster, soldiers far from home and friends, have all had reason to bless the name of the Salvation Army. This year, its 75th anniversary in America, will undoubtedly mark a new high in its accomplishments. Americans make the birthday wish that it will continue to grow as an instrument of religious and humanitarian pursuits.

THE LIFE OF A PIG

A pig originally rustled for his food and shelter in the wilds. Then he was seduced with "free" meals to fatten him, and his life and freedom were forfeited for board and room. The wild pig had a future, but only one end awaited his cared-for brother.

Man has a brain to choose freedom, but history is a sad record of results under socialism to which he has often succumbed. This course has led to servitude and subjugation. Man found lost freedom the price of false security. There is no shortcut to a fruitful life. Man can delegate a few duties to government, but to maintain his liberty he must not submit to government for subsistence.

A jury in Reading, Pa., was trapped for 45 minutes in a faulty elevator. Some juries can't reach a verdict. This one couldn't even get to court.

Some parents endeavor to raise their children by the book—and some apply it with carefully directed force.

Some people complain that the only thing their friends can talk about is the weather. Often that is all it's good for!

Contentment always comes quickest when one is seeking to bring it to others.

All may be well that ends well, but the route to the finish can be rough, indeed.

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

LOTS OF PEOPLE

Estimates of the population of Asia vary because of all the countries on that continent, according to the "Population Bulletin," only Israel, Japan, Ceylon and Malaya provide vital statistics which are "reasonably accurate." The Red Chinese say that China has a population of almost 600,000,000; generally the figure of 500,000,000 is accepted as somewhere near correct. The birth rate continues to be high but the life expectancy is perhaps half that of Europeans.

Taken all in all, the population of Asia is rising, amounting now to about 1,300,000,000 human beings. For the sake of comparison, the United States has a population of about 160,000,000.

Only Japan is a modernly industrialized country. The rest of Asia is principally agricultural, with small return per acre and occasionally famine. Modern medicine and public health activities, wherever they are permitted to apply their science to the elimination of epidemics, do serve to reduce the death rate, but this only increases overpopulation and the economic problems that arise therefrom.

When one looks at a map of Asia, it appears to be a very roomy place, but it needs to be remembered that its mountains are the highest on Earth and some of its deserts are enormous. While such a desert as the Gobi is suitable, in places, for raising cattle, it is difficult to produce cereals, vegetables and such foods there. The population is therefore squeezed into the fertile areas, producing an undue density of population in certain places and a sparsity in others.

In my own experience, I witnessed the constant struggle of mountain and desert peoples to reach the river bottom lands. In China, this used to be called banditry. Actually, those who were termed bandits were the surplus population of villages in areas where hunger was the rule .The younger men who could not remain in the villages to eat the food needed by elder men, women and children sought employment in China's numerous armies or became bandits. The Lincheng Bandits, some of whom I know well, were respectable folks from the vicinity of Confucius's birthplace who were forced to resort to kidnapping to get themselves employed in armies. By this means they obtained food.

The cure for this condition is industrialization which means that the worker receives cash money for his labor and therefore can purchase food, even imported food. But industrialization is a slow process and affects the lives of only thousands of people, while actually the problem involves hundreds of millions of people.

Red China is now engaging in an imperialistic venture which could solve her hunger problem. The conquest of Indochina—the whole of it—and Thailand by Red China could provide ample rice if the farmers of those countries will work the paddy fields on a nationalized basis. Those countries can export rice, but Red China is not sufficiently industrialized to provide them with manufactured goods. As a matter of fact, Japan, if given a free hand, could develop a better trade with Indochina and Thailand than Red China can. On the other hand, Japan can purchase coal, hides, skins, wool and other commodities that Red China has to sell.

Most Asiatic countries are conscious of their population problems, but can take few practical steps about them. India has officially adopted birth control, but in China, family tradition is too firmly bedded in the idea of large families to be uprooted readily. While plural marriage and concubinage no longer are legal, it is difficult to know what effect such prohibitions have had upon a people who have so strong a tradition about the necessity for having male children.

Also in most Asiatic countries, marriages take place early and therefore children are likely to be numerous in each family. Whether the advent of the Communists have resulted in later marriages, I do not know. In dealing with population problems, the earlier the marriage, the more children are to be expected.

Industrialization may be the only peaceful solution to this problem of too many people but successful industrialization requires a literate population and, with the exception of Japan, Asiatic countries continue to show a very high rate of illiteracy.

The danger to the United States is that countries that have excess population do not value human life too highly and therefore do not fear the consequences of war. They take chances that Western countries would not take.

That Body of Yours

By JAMES W. BARTON, M.D.

MORE ABOUT LIVING WITH HEART DISEASE

Yesterday, in talking of heart disease, we said we would go into a few details about rest, diet and other suggestions for the person who is "living with his heart disease."

As to rest, when a man's heart is really injured, he is fortunate if he can rest and take it easy. If he is a laborer, a piano mover, his working days may be ended; but if he is an office worker, able to sit quietly at a desk all day, he may be able to work for years. One of the difficulties of our modern life is that in many positions a man cannot take it easy; he must either do a full day's work or else quit and stay home. Naturally, if a point is reached where the patient is always short of breath or his legs are swelling, he must, for a time, either go to bed or sit up in a chair. He may need three pillows to breathe comfortably. He may have to take a heart stimulant, such as digitalis, or an artery relaxant, such as nitroglycerin, or a diuretic, such as thiomerin, to help his kidneys work better. To help get rid of extra water he may, for a time, have to give up all table salt in his food. After he is up and about again, he must learn quickly what he can or cannot do and then not "exceed his speed limit."

As to diet, most persons with heart disease need not change their diet. Of course, the person who is fat should reduce to avoid carrying extra weight around. His diet should consist mainly of some protein, such as meat, poultry, fish, an egg and a glass of milk, plus vegetables, salads and fruits. This type of diet will help a person remain free of diabetes and gout. Such a diet will also help the person who has too much cholesterol (a fat-like substance), thought to be somewhat responsible for a narrowing of the main arteries of the heart, found in animal fats, butter, cream.

Extra water should be avoided as it only gives the heart more work to do. It has to pump the water around through the body until it is thrown out.

The excessive use of tobacco appears to injure arteries as well as general health. Moderate smoking will probably do no harm. Coffee and tea and a little alcohol are not likely to be harmful.

How about living at high altitudes where there is less oxygen in the air? This is somewhat of a handicap to a weakened heart and if the heart has not much reserve, the patient will feel better at sea level.

What about flying? The answer usually is that if a person can walk comfortably on the street, he can fly without trouble. If he has some discomfort on the plane, the stewardess can give him oxygen, which should relieve him.

What about operations? Often this decision will depend on how greatly it is needed. For instance, if a man is having one bad gallstone colic after another, he had better be operated on even if the risk is great. If he comes through, his heart condition is likely to be much improved.

To sum up, the patient with heart disease should find a good optimistic doctor, trust him and take his advice; avoid needless fear and panic, and live within his strength.

Steppingstones

Edson's Washington News Notebook

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

Washington (NEA)—Dat ol' debbil "Inflation" — bugaboo of the war years and the immediate postwar period—has reared his ugly head again.

The cost of living has gone up a little over one per cent in the last three years. The value of the dollar has remained fairly stable. The little guy hasn't been touched—yet.

But into Chairman J. William Fulbright's Senate Banking committee investigation of the stock market have crept a number of warnings of danger.

The question of whether the stock market boom of the last year is in itself inflationary is debatable.

SOME FULBRIGHT COMMITTEE witnesses and leading government economists say the market has not been inflationary so far. But they warn that if the boom gets into the stocks priced at under $10 a share, it will be inflationary and watch out.

At this point the question of curbs on stock market buying through raising margin requirements comes into the picture. New York banks have just reported that loans on securities have reached a new high.

G. Keith Funston, president of the New York Stock Exchange says the margin requirement should never be lower than 40 per cent. But it is his opinion that it was not necessary for the Federal Reserve Board to raise the requirement from 50 to 60 per cent, as it did recently.

Marriner S. Eccles, former FRB chairman, says on the other hand that the margin should now be raised to 75 and gradually to 100 per cent to curb inflation.

Take your pick.

MR. FUNSTON POINTS OUT that stocks are not the only things being bought on credit now. Last year 70 per cent of all automobiles were bought on time. Eighty per cent of all home "owners" have mortgages on their houses.

So, if there is need for curbs on stock market loans, there would also seem to be some need to keep an eye on other forms of credit, through direct controls or indirectly through taxes to curb consumer spending.

Market experts have told the Fulbright committee there is no comparison between the present situation and 1929. Everything is now said to be dandy. It is being recalled, however, that there is considerable similarity between the fiscal policies of the mid-1950's and the mid-1920's.

The idea 30 years ago was to cut taxes to the minimum, give business plenty of incentives, let credit go where it would. Everybody knows how that ended.

THE FISCAL POLICY TODAY is characterized as seeking to provide a financial climate to promote business growth. To whatever degree these policies may be leading towards inflation, they would appear to be nothing when compared to the fiscal policy which the Democratic leadership seems to be building up for its 1956 campaign program.

By favoring greater federal government spending for direct aids on school construction, highway construction, more public works, bigger defense budgets, and a return to fixed 90 per cent of parity support prices on basic farm crops, the Democrats seem to be heading towards greater government deficits.

The aim here is said to be the promotion of more employment, which is of course worthy. Unemployment of over three million people is the one inconsistency in today's boom.

But if this is corrected only at the expense of still more inflation, it may in the long run hurt more than it helps and really merit the label which Secretary of the Treasury George M. Humphrey has hung on it of silly, fiscal irresponsibility.

Atomic Energy Commission Repudiates Scare Stories About Radioactive Particles

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, March 23—Scare stories about the allegedly injurious effect of atomic "fall-out" of radioactive particles as a consequence of tests being conducted in Nevada are repudiated by officials of the Atomic Energy Commission.

In a copyrighted article, which the offices of the commission cleared for publication as factually accurate, the weekly magazine "U. S. News & World Report" in its current issue makes the following categorical statements:

"From the 'big shot' test, a radioactive 'cloud' crossed the United States but harmed no one.

"EFFECTS OF ITS 'fall-out' on anyone in U. S. equalled that of a luminous-dial watch.

"Total 'fall out' on any one place for a year will be a fourth of 'normal' allowance.

"New experiments show present 'fall-out' level cannot harm future generations.

"Fear of food contamination is refuted.

"Even fish contaminated in Pacific H-bomb 'fall-out' could have been eaten, if skinned."

THE MOST IMPORTANT observations are those made after careful study of all medical data. Dr. John C. Bugher, director of biology and medicine for the Atomic Energy Commission, is quoted as follows:

"Small detonations, such as are fired at the Nevada Proving Ground, produce heavy contamination extending for only a few miles and the dangerously active areas are confined to the controlled bombing range."

There is much confusion—generated in part by the Communists and in part by comments of some scientists who, for unknown reasons, are feeding to the press exaggerated statements—but the truth is readily obtainable from official sources. Thus, one of the most frequent distortions is with reference to the possible effect on future generations. The article in "U. S. News & World report" says:

"The 50,000 babies born to Japanese exposed to nearly fatal doses of radioactivity at Hiroshima and Nagasaki show no measurable increase in 'mutations.' More than four million dollars has been spent by the United States in making careful tests of this 'second generation.' . . .

"Japanese survivors of A-bomb blasts with nearly fatal radiation doses showed an increase in the frequency of leukemia. That tendency, however, has not continued in their children."

THE MOST important comment from an official source outside the United States has just been made by Anthony Nutting, minister of state in the British government, who was pressed in Parliament by the Laborites to urge the calling of a special session of the UN General Assembly "to discuss the effects of hydrogen-bomb tests on the world atmosphere and to set up an international study group to examine and report on the genetic and other consequences of the tests." But Mr. Nutting said in reply:

"Certainly my scientific advice at the moment is that there is no danger to human life or to reprodution of the human animal from any explosions which have taken place so far."

WHAT ISN'T generally realized perhaps is that the Atomic Energy Commission is constantly measuring in every state of the Union "fall-out" from the tests. The effects are negligible and have hurt nobody. The commission has the benefit also of the advice of the best medical men in the country, including specialists in the field of human reproduction known as geneticists. Experiments on mice and fruit flies have also been conducted. As far as mice are concerned they show, when subjected to heavy doses of radiation, few adverse "mutations" in succeeding generations. Fruit flies show an improvement—they end up more reproductive and with better resistance to disease.

What the press reports from different parts of the country, giving comments by scientists, unfortunately do not do is to differentiate between "fall-out" from tests in Nevada and damage done to persons close to the tests carried on in the Pacific, where the big bombs were exploded.

THE FACT is that the Nevada tests are being conducted for a humanitarian purpose—to determine the best ways to help civilian defense—and not to develop stronger weapons of war. The big bombs are not tested in this country, but in ocean areas far away from this continent. The Communist drive, however, is to stop all tests, and many persons are being duped by the campaign into thinking all the tests held in Nevada are injurious and will hurt future generations. There isn't a word of truth in that propaganda.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

Tucson, Ariz., March 22—Reverend gentlemen have been admonishing Catholic toilers to join unions as a matter of moral duty, citing purely advisory but not compulsory Papal authority.

Waiving no political and constitutional objections, I do submit that these exhortations by clerical advocates of the closed shop would be improved by reference to the Pope's Christmas letter of 1952 which took note of some vagaries of union bosses and invited them to earn public confidence by mending their ways.

This counsel came soon after my interview in the Vatican with the Pope's official adviser on labor matters at which I revealed some facts of life in the American union racket so startling that this pious soul asked me to write a memorandum for His Holiness for guidance in dealing with union advocates, clerical and lay, who go traipsing to Rome all the time.

Some of our clergy were skeptical of this request. Others, however, knowing the character of our unionism, did me the honor and simple justice of believing me and the best diocesan weekly in the United States phoned me at Christmas time to ask if my own fine Hibernian hand had been involved in the preparation of this plainly implied reproof.

It has always seemed to me that men of the cloth who deal with unionism, which is not synonymous with labor and often hostile to that virtuous host, have a professional duty to know the wiles and works of union bosses and to take them to task in the open.

The late Father Daniel Lord, S.J., of St. Louis University, did something of the kind in his "Open Letter to a Boss." This was a warning to Tom Pendergast, Harry Truman's political mentor and patron, that his public and his private conduct were inseparable and, in plain but not specific intimations, that the loot from the peoples's taxes and the brass-check lug from the earnings of pathetic prostitutes in Kansas City were items of confessional concern.

I have the impudence to suggest that similar communications to Catholic bosses of the union racket could serve a good moral purpose. It seems futile to harangue workers about a moral duty to throw in with their fellow toilers when they see so many occasions for warnings in the same vein as Father Lord's epistle. Whether such counsel to non-Catholics would be seemly I am not qualified to say, but there are many bosses in the racket who are members of the faith and they include some of the worst.

Does the fact that George Meany has never been in prison while his old friends and colleagues, Joe Fay and Joe Ryan, have been laid by the heels, suffice to earn him approval or even toleration from holy authority?

These three were as thick as concrete for many years and time was when Ryan was lauded as a patriot, though for a price, in keeping Harry Bridges off the eastern seaboard. He was, however, a grafter of notorious renown, as Meany certainly knew, and Fay, whom Meany took counsel of in Sing Sing, was worse because he was a cruel thug who enjoyed hurting people.

So how would it be today to point a finger at George Meany in the matter of another routine, familiar disgrace to unionism and deterrent to willing membership?

I refer to the conduct of Joseph O'Neill, the international president of the Distillery, Rectifying and Wine Workers' International Union, with headquarters in Chicago. This outfit has 30,000 members and it holds a charter from the AF of L of which Meany is president. The New York phase of this corruption is so defiant that a whole book of crimes involving millions in graft, which I patiently revealed over a course of years, was regarded by an apathetic public as the normal way of things in a typical union of the American Federation of Labor. And so it was and is.

Of late, Mr. Hogan, the district attorney of New York county, and Al Scotti, his learned assistant in such droll pranks, indicted George Scalise, little Augie Pisano and Sol Cilento, the secretary-treasurer of the international union and Satrap in command of the New York-New Jersey region, charging thievery in the mass-insurance racket. In seven years one insurance agent, in collusion with the mob, had received $1,500,000 in commissions on this mass-insurance racket. That inquiry disclosed direct graft from the treasury of the international union itself, whose main office lies in Chicago.

Mr. Scotti got a subpoena for the international's books which had been kept in the New York jurisdiction until then but now vanished to Chicago in one of the six American states which have no "reciprocal witness" treaty with all the others. Illinois is an "asylum" state.

Cilento said he could not comply. The international office in Chicago had demanded the books for audit.

Scotti told Joe O'Neill, the international president, that the New York district attorney wanted to inspect them for proof that labor had been betrayed by systematic thievery.

Mr. O'Neill "took it up" with his "board" and, to the astonishment of nobody, the "board" decided that the best interests of the union would not be served by such inspection. Meanwhile, Cilento "resigned" as secretary-treasurer and so lost his power to obey the writ should the court get that gleam in its eye.

In his latest move, foredoomed, of course, Scotti appealed to Mr. O'Neill, as a trustee of "labor," to go to New York and give information to the grand jury. Mr. O'Neill may have been willing but unfortunately not only his "board" but the union's counsel decided that this would not advance the interests of the union.

By this time mice may have devoured the books. There could be an opportune fire in the vault. Or the "board" could pass a resolution impromptu requiring the destruction of all records more than 24 hours old on the principle of a similar rule of the Teamsters' Union in Detroit.

It is all very well to belabor the toiler with his duty to merge his cause with the cause of mankind even as he breathes his petitions to the throne of mercy in the Mass. But such counsel would be more persuasive should some divine catch the private ears of the Messrs. Meany and O'Neill for a little missionary work.

Comerford Freed

New York, March 23 (AP)—Richard Comerford, 40, was freed in Magistrate's Court yesterday after being held on a vagrancy charge lodged as he was under questioning in a Greenwich Village slaying. Comerford had been held in $5,000 bail for further hearing next Monday, but police asked yesterday's arraignment and dismissal. Comerford had been questioned in the fatal shooting of Thomas Bagarozzo, 27, in a crowded bar early last Sunday. The killer escaped.

EASTER SEAL APPEAL

With the Easter season upon us, we'd like to remind you of a way you can bring its spirit alive by giving new life and hope to crippled children.

The way is simple: The cause of crippled children will reach millions of Americans during the month-long 1955 Easter Seal Appeal, which runs this year from March 10 to April 10.

Early in this period you will probably receive a letter containing the traditional Easter Seals in the mail. Your contribution will help see to it that diagnostic clinics, rehabilitation centers, camps, convalescent hospitals, treatment and training centers, special classes, and sheltered workshops are maintained and expanded to serve more and more children as their needs increase.

Through this Appeal, then, comes a far-reaching opportunity to assure the continuation and expansion of medical care, therapy, recreation and special education services which are provided throughout the Empire State by your Easter Seal Society, the New York State Association for Crippled Children.

If you do not receive Seals in the mail you may still give—by enclosing your gift and sending it to Crippled Children, in care of your local Postmaster.

The handicapped child needs your help now so that he may help himself later. You can give real meaning to this season of hope by answering the Easter Seal Appeal.

LONG YEARS OF SERVICE

This year the Salvation Army is celebrating three-quarters of a century of service to God and man in the United States. The first expedition of the Army landed in New York in 1880 and proceeded to carry out its work where misery and squalor was at its worst.

From its humble beginnings in this country the Salvation Army has grown into one of our most respected and effective religious and social service organizations. That this is so is the result of the tireless work, the dedication and the faith of those in its ranks.

The very poor, the confused, the victims of disaster, soldiers far from home and friends, have all had reason to bless the name of the Salvation Army. This year, its 75th anniversary in America, will undoubtedly mark a new high in its accomplishments. Americans make the birthday wish that it will continue to grow as an instrument of religious and humanitarian pursuits.

THE LIFE OF A PIG

A pig originally rustled for his food and shelter in the wilds. Then he was seduced with "free" meals to fatten him, and his life and freedom were forfeited for board and room. The wild pig had a future, but only one end awaited his cared-for brother.

Man has a brain to choose freedom, but history is a sad record of results under socialism to which he has often succumbed. This course has led to servitude and subjugation. Man found lost freedom the price of false security. There is no shortcut to a fruitful life. Man can delegate a few duties to government, but to maintain his liberty he must not submit to government for subsistence.

A jury in Reading, Pa., was trapped for 45 minutes in a faulty elevator. Some juries can't reach a verdict. This one couldn't even get to court.

Some parents endeavor to raise their children by the book—and some apply it with carefully directed force.

Some people complain that the only thing their friends can talk about is the weather. Often that is all it's good for!

Contentment always comes quickest when one is seeking to bring it to others.

All may be well that ends well, but the route to the finish can be rough, indeed.

'These Days'

LOTS OF PEOPLE

Estimates of the population of Asia vary because of all the countries on that continent, according to the "Population Bulletin," only Israel, Japan, Ceylon and Malaya provide vital statistics which are "reasonably accurate." The Red Chinese say that China has a population of almost 600,000,000; generally the figure of 500,000,000 is accepted as somewhere near correct. The birth rate continues to be high but the life expectancy is perhaps half that of Europeans.

Taken all in all, the population of Asia is rising, amounting now to about 1,300,000,000 human beings. For the sake of comparison, the United States has a population of about 160,000,000.

Only Japan is a modernly industrialized country. The rest of Asia is principally agricultural, with small return per acre and occasionally famine. Modern medicine and public health activities, wherever they are permitted to apply their science to the elimination of epidemics, do serve to reduce the death rate, but this only increases overpopulation and the economic problems that arise therefrom.

When one looks at a map of Asia, it appears to be a very roomy place, but it needs to be remembered that its mountains are the highest on Earth and some of its deserts are enormous. While such a desert as the Gobi is suitable, in places, for raising cattle, it is difficult to produce cereals, vegetables and such foods there. The population is therefore squeezed into the fertile areas, producing an undue density of population in certain places and a sparsity in others.

In my own experience, I witnessed the constant struggle of mountain and desert peoples to reach the river bottom lands. In China, this used to be called banditry. Actually, those who were termed bandits were the surplus population of villages in areas where hunger was the rule. The younger men who could not remain in the villages to eat the food needed by elder men, women and children sought employment in China's numerous armies or became bandits. The Lincheng Bandits, some of whom I know well, were respectable folks from the vicinity of Confucius's birthplace who were forced to resort to kidnapping to get themselves employed in armies. By this means they obtained food.

The cure for this condition is industrialization which means that the worker receives cash money for his labor and therefore can purchase food, even imported food. But industrialization is a slow process and affects the lives of only thousands of people, while actually the problem involves hundreds of millions of people.

Red China is now engaging in an imperialistic venture which could solve her hunger problem. The conquest of Indochina—the whole of it—and Thailand by Red China could provide ample rice if the farmers of those countries will work the paddy fields on a nationalized basis. Those countries can export rice, but Red China is not sufficiently industrialized to provide them with manufactured goods. As a matter of fact, Japan, if given a free hand, could develop a better trade with Indochina and Thailand than Red China can. On the other hand, Japan can purchase coal, hides, skins, wool and other commodities that Red China has to sell.

Most Asiatic countries are conscious of their population problems, but can take few practical steps about them. India has officially adopted birth control, but in China, family tradition is too firmly bedded in the idea of large families to be uprooted readily. While plural marriage and concubinage no longer are legal, it is difficult to know what effect such prohibitions have had upon a people who have so strong a tradition about the necessity for having male children.

Also in most Asiatic countries, marriages take place early and therefore children are likely to be numerous in each family. Whether the advent of the Communists have resulted in later marriages, I do not know. In dealing with population problems, the earlier the marriage, the more children are to be expected.

Industrialization may be the only peaceful solution to this problem of too many people but successful industrialization requires a literate population and, with the exception of Japan, Asiatic countries continue to show a very high rate of illiteracy.

The danger to the United States is that countries that have excess population do not value human life too highly and therefore do not fear the consequences of war. They take chances that Western countries would not take.

That Body of Yours

MORE ABOUT LIVING WITH HEART DISEASE

Yesterday, in talking of heart disease, we said we would go into a few details about rest, diet and other suggestions for the person who is "living with his heart disease."

As to rest, when a man's heart is really injured, he is fortunate if he can rest and take it easy. If he is a laborer, a piano mover, his working days may be ended; but if he is an office worker, able to sit quietly at a desk all day, he may be able to work for years. One of the difficulties of our modern life is that in many positions a man cannot take it easy; he must either do a full day's work or else quit and stay home. Naturally, if a point is reached where the patient is always short of breath or his legs are swelling, he must, for a time, either go to bed or sit up in a chair. He may need three pillows to breathe comfortably. He may have to take a heart stimulant, such as digitalis, or an artery relaxant, such as nitroglycerin, or a diuretic, such as thiomerin, to help his kidneys work better. To help get rid of extra water he may, for a time, have to give up all table salt in his food. After he is up and about again, he must learn quickly what he can or cannot do and then not "exceed his speed limit."

As to diet, most persons with heart disease need not change their diet. Of course, the person who is fat should reduce to avoid carrying extra weight around. His diet should consist mainly of some protein, such as meat, poultry, fish, an egg and a glass of milk, plus vegetables, salads and fruits. This type of diet will help a person remain free of diabetes and gout. Such a diet will also help the person who has too much cholesterol (a fat-like substance), thought to be somewhat responsible for a narrowing of the main arteries of the heart, found in animal fats, butter, cream.

Extra water should be avoided as it only gives the heart more work to do. It has to pump the water around through the body until it is thrown out.

The excessive use of tobacco appears to injure arteries as well as general health. Moderate smoking will probably do no harm. Coffee and tea and a little alcohol are not likely to be harmful.

How about living at high altitudes where there is less oxygen in the air? This is somewhat of a handicap to a weakened heart and if the heart has not much reserve, the patient will feel better at sea level.

What about flying? The answer usually is that if a person can walk comfortably on the street, he can fly without trouble. If he has some discomfort on the plane, the stewardess can give him oxygen, which should relieve him.

What about operations? Often this decision will depend on how greatly it is needed. For instance, if a man is having one bad gallstone colic after another, he had better be operated on even if the risk is great. If he comes through, his heart condition is likely to be much improved.

To sum up, the patient with heart disease should find a good optimistic doctor, trust him and take his advice; avoid needless fear and panic, and live within his strength.

Steppingstones

Edson's Washington News Notebook

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

Washington (NEA)—Dat ol' debbil "Inflation" — bugaboo of the war years and the immediate postwar period—has reared his ugly head again.

The cost of living has gone up a little over one per cent in the last three years. The value of the dollar has remained fairly stable. The little guy hasn't been touched—yet.

But into Chairman J. William Fulbright's Senate Banking committee investigation of the stock market have crept a number of warnings of danger.

The question of whether the stock market boom of the last year is in itself inflationary is debatable.

SOME FULBRIGHT COMMITTEE witnesses and leading government economists say the market has not been inflationary so far. But they warn that if the boom gets into the stocks priced at under $10 a share, it will be inflationary and watch out.

At this point the question of curbs on stock market buying through raising margin requirements comes into the picture. New York banks have just reported that loans on securities have reached a new high.

G. Keith Funston, president of the New York Stock Exchange says the margin requirement should never be lower than 40 per cent. But it is his opinion that it was not necessary for the Federal Reserve Board to raise the requirement from 50 to 60 per cent, as it did recently.

Marriner S. Eccles, former FRB chairman, says on the other hand that the margin should now be raised to 75 and gradually to 100 per cent to curb inflation.

Take your pick.

MR. FUNSTON POINTS OUT that stocks are not the only things being bought on credit now. Last year 70 per cent of all automobiles were bought on time. Eighty per cent of all home "owners" have mortgages on their houses.

So, if there is need for curbs on stock market loans, there would also seem to be some need to keep an eye on other forms of credit, through direct controls or indirectly through taxes to curb consumer spending.

Market experts have told the Fulbright committee there is no comparison between the present situation and 1929. Everything is now said to be dandy. It is being recalled, however, that there is considerable similarity between the fiscal policies of the mid-1950's and the mid-1920's.

The idea 30 years ago was to cut taxes to the minimum, give business plenty of incentives, let credit go where it would. Everybody knows how that ended.

THE FISCAL POLICY TODAY is characterized as seeking to provide a financial climate to promote business growth. To whatever degree these policies may be leading towards inflation, they would appear to be nothing when compared to the fiscal policy which the Democratic leadership seems to be building up for its 1956 campaign program.

By favoring greater federal government spending for direct aids on school construction, highway construction, more public works, bigger defense budgets, and a return to fixed 90 per cent of parity support prices on basic farm crops, the Democrats seem to be heading towards greater government deficits.

The aim here is said to be the promotion of more employment, which is of course worthy. Unemployment of over three million people is the one inconsistency in today's boom.

But if this is corrected only at the expense of still more inflation, it may in the long run hurt more than it helps and really merit the label which Secretary of the Treasury George M. Humphrey has hung on it of silly, fiscal irresponsibility.

Atomic Energy Commission Repudiates Scare Stories About Radioactive Particles

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, March 23—Scare stories about the allegedly injurious effect of atomic "fall-out" of radioactive particles as a consequence of tests being conducted in Nevada are repudiated by officials of the Atomic Energy Commission.

In a copyrighted article, which the offices of the commission cleared for publication as factually accurate, the weekly magazine "U. S. News & World Report" in its current issue makes the following categorical statements:

"From the 'big shot' test, a radioactive 'cloud' crossed the United States but harmed no one.

"EFFECTS OF ITS 'fall-out' on anyone in U. S. equalled that of a luminous-dial watch.

"Total 'fall out' on any one place for a year will be a fourth of 'normal' allowance.

"New experiments show present 'fall-out' level cannot harm future generations.

"Fear of food contamination is refuted.

"Even fish contaminated in Pacific H-bomb 'fall-out' could have been eaten, if skinned."

THE MOST IMPORTANT observations are those made after careful study of all medical data. Dr. John C. Bugher, director of biology and medicine for the Atomic Energy Commission, is quoted as follows:

"Small detonations, such as are fired at the Nevada Proving Ground, produce heavy contamination extending for only a few miles and the dangerously active areas are confined to the controlled bombing range."

There is much confusion—generated in part by the Communists and in part by comments of some scientists who, for unknown reasons, are feeding to the press exaggerated statements—but the truth is readily obtainable from official sources. Thus, one of the most frequent distortions is with reference to the possible effect on future generations. The article in "U. S. News & World report" says:

"The 50,000 babies born to Japanese exposed to nearly fatal doses of radioactivity at Hiroshima and Nagasaki show no measurable increase in 'mutations.' More than four million dollars has been spent by the United States in making careful tests of this 'second generation.' . . .

"Japanese survivors of A-bomb blasts with nearly fatal radiation doses showed an increase in the frequency of leukemia. That tendency, however, has not continued in their children."

THE MOST important comment from an official source outside the United States has just been made by Anthony Nutting, minister of state in the British government, who was pressed in Parliament by the Laborites to urge the calling of a special session of the UN General Assembly "to discuss the effects of hydrogen-bomb tests on the world atmosphere and to set up an international study group to examine and report on the genetic and other consequences of the tests." But Mr. Nutting said in reply:

"Certainly my scientific advice at the moment is that there is no danger to human life or to reprodution of the human animal from any explosions which have taken place so far."

WHAT ISN'T generally realized perhaps is that the Atomic Energy Commission is constantly measuring in every state of the Union "fall-out" from the tests. The effects are negligible and have hurt nobody. The commission has the benefit also of the advice of the best medical men in the country, including specialists in the field of human reproduction known as geneticists. Experiments on mice and fruit flies have also been conducted. As far as mice are concerned they show, when subjected to heavy doses of radiation, few adverse "mutations" in succeeding generations. Fruit flies show an improvement—they end up more reproductive and with better resistance to disease.

What the press reports from different parts of the country, giving comments by scientists, unfortunately do not do is to differentiate between "fall-out" from tests in Nevada and damage done to persons close to the tests carried on in the Pacific, where the big bombs were exploded.

THE FACT is that the Nevada tests are being conducted for a humanitarian purpose—to determine the best ways to help civilian defense—and not to develop stronger weapons of war. The big bombs are not tested in this country, but in ocean areas far away from this continent. Does the fact that George Meany has never been in prison while his old friends and colleagues, Joe Fay and Joe Ryan, have been laid by the heels, suffice to earn him approval or even toleration from holy authority?

These three were as thick as concrete for many years and time was when Ryan was lauded as a patriot, though for a price, in keeping Harry Bridges off the eastern seaboard. He was, however, a grafter of notorious renown, as Meany certainly knew, and Fay, whom Meany took counsel of in Sing Sing, was worse because he was a cruel thug who enjoyed hurting people.

So how would it be today to point a finger at George Meany in the matter of another routine, familiar disgrace to unionism and deterrent to willing membership?

I refer to the conduct of Joseph O'Neill, the international president of the Distillery, Rectifying and Wine Workers' International Union, with headquarters in Chicago. This outfit has 30,000 members and it holds a charter from the AF of L of which Meany is president. The New York phase of this corruption is so defiant that a whole book of crimes involving millions in graft, which I patiently revealed over a course of years, was regarded by an apathetic public as the normal way of things in a typical union of the American Federation of Labor. And so it was and is.

Of late, Mr. Hogan, the district attorney of New York county, and Al Scotti, his learned assistant in such droll pranks, indicted George Scalise, little Augie Pisano and Sol Cilento, the secretary-treasurer of the international union and Satrap in command of the New York-New Jersey region, charging thievery in the mass-insurance racket. In seven years one insurance agent, in collusion with the mob, had received $1,500,000 in commissions on this mass-insurance racket. That inquiry disclosed direct graft from the treasury of the international union itself, whose main office lies in Chicago.

Mr. Scotti got a subpoena for the international's books which had been kept in the New York jurisdiction until then but now vanished to Chicago in one of the six American states which have no "reciprocal witness" treaty with all the others. Illinois is an "asylum" state.

Cilento said he could not comply. The international office in Chicago had demanded the books for audit.

Scotti told Joe O'Neill, the international president, that the New York district attorney wanted to inspect them for proof that labor had been betrayed by systematic thievery.

Mr. O'Neill "took it up" with his "board" and, to the astonishment of nobody, the "board" decided that the best interests of the union would not be served by such inspection. Meanwhile, Cilento "resigned" as secretary-treasurer and so lost his power to obey the writ should the court get that gleam in its eye.

In his latest move, foredoomed, of course, Scotti appealed to Mr. O'Neill, as a trustee of "labor," to go to New York and give information to the grand jury. Mr. O'Neill may have been willing but unfortunately not only his "board" but the union's counsel decided that this would not advance the interests of the union.

By this time mice may have devoured the books. There could be an opportune fire in the vault. Or the "board" could pass a resolution impromptu requiring the destruction of all records more than 24 hours old on the principle of a similar rule of the Teamsters' Union in Detroit.

It is all very well to belabor the toiler with his duty to merge his cause with the cause of mankind even as he breathes his petitions to the throne of mercy in the Mass. But such counsel would be more persuasive should some divine catch the private ears of the Messrs. Meany and O'Neill for a little missionary work.

Comerford Freed

New York, March 23 (AP)—Richard Comerford, 40, was freed in Magistrate's Court yesterday after being held on a vagrancy charge lodged as he was under questioning in a Greenwich Village slaying. Comerford had been held in $5,000 bail for further hearing next Monday, but police asked yesterday's arraignment and dismissal. Comerford had been questioned in the fatal shooting of Thomas Bagarozzo, 27, in a crowded bar early last Sunday. The killer escaped.

THE RUMINATOR

By HUMPHREY B. NEILL

A Column of Contrary Opinion

The Ruminator has been scratching his head lately: has been trying to think, that is. And I ask you, is anything more difficult in these days of heavy headlines and misleading propaganda?

A PRIMARY PROBLEM of the theory of contrary opinion—which is the basis for these columns—is to be on the lookout for any possible public mania; or, to put it in fifty-cent words, to be on the alert for any extraordinary manifestation of human behavior.

More often than not, in these columns, we are concerned with socio-economic trends. Inasmuch as suggestions of changes in such trends are quite often indicated by actions of the "people" we therefore try to observe what people are thinking about—because what you think about today, yop're quite likely to be doing tomorrow.

As you know they've been "studying" the stock market down in Washington. The investigation seems to have bogged down and to have become a political welter-match rather than a helpful education process for the public. Very little information of value to the average person has been brought out this far. Questions and answers have dealt largely with such unpredictable facts as "Is the market too high?" and "Is Wall Street getting to look like it did in 1929?" and so on.

It seems to me that it would be helpful if such studies could be used to demonstrate that economic depressions, or lesser slumps, usually arise from different reasons—as the business revolves—and not always from the same set of factors.

IN SHORT, the Ruminator wonders if the investigators are looking at the right set of conditions. Just because the stock market was the outstanding event of the 1929 collapse does not necessarily mean that Wall Street will be responsible for the next serious upset we run into.

What we have to look for, it seems to me, is what the public may get excited about. Let us not have a predetermined opinion that it will be another stock-market mania.

One condition which seems to be present at the culmination of booms is "credit strain." Credit strain, however, may be caused by various developments; not only in the stock merket.

As you go back through the manias of history you find everything from speculation in tulips to sand lots in Florida causing people to stretch their money to the limit.

THE RUMINATOR is speculating in his own mind, at the present time, over whether people are not about to enter a "spending mania" rather than a speculative mania.

It seems to me that the idea of buying any and all manner of goods on "time payments" has become highly contagious. The two factors which influence crowd psychology are "contagion" and "imitation." Keeping up with the Jones, to use an old saying, is illustrative of both imitation and contagion.

Everything has worked to make it easy for people to get into debt. Money has been in ample supply, wages have constantly climbed higher, jobs have been available because of the boom, credit terms have been made redicuously lenient.

THE RESULT, it seems to me, is that people have become enthusiastic over owning "new things." A couple will buy a house with a few hundred dollars down (or no down-payment at all) and long years to pay. They care little about the years the loan will run because they haven't any idea of staying long in the house anyway! Couples are buying houses, not homes, as in the old days. Before long, as the family grows they "discard" the house they bought and move into a larger one. Sales are not too difficult while so much shifting and changing are going on.

Then a new television is purchased, and new furniture, and new appliances. Neighbors have newer cars, so our couple trades in theirs "to be in style."

The result of this mania "to buy things" and pay for them tomorrow is become more widespread than is commonly recognized. There has been so much praise for the time-payment system in American that it may be overlooked that everything in the economic sphere can be overdone.

So the Ruminator thinks perhaps we should be observing more thoughtfully this fast spreading of "credit pyramiding" as it could become a public mania and be harmful.

ARE THINGS HUMMING AT YOUR HOUSE?—Here's a little guessing game each householder can play. It's called How Many Motors? Think you know your house well? Okay, write down on a slip of paper an estimate of how many electric motors you own. A warning—the elusive little things are hard to bring to mind. So mechanized is the American home that most have at least 20. Mrs. Frederick Frost of Pittsburgh guessed high and said 20. By actual count she had 38. There were eight in the kitchen: dish washer, blender, clock, mixer, refrigerator, range timer, ventilating fan and garbage disposal unit. Elsewhere in the house she had: two air conditioners, furnace blower, electric fans, vacuum cleaners, deep freeze, washer-dryer, ironer, sewing machine, record player, hair dryer, vibrator, movie projector, electric razor, electric drill, additional clocks, a garage door opener, the starter motor, windshield wiper and heater in the car. Indians used to be rich in the number of ponies they owned, slaveholders by the number of slaves. In America the standard may be set by the number of electric motors.

DST Measure Is Up to Harriman

Albany, March 23 (AP)—Daylight saving time will be mandatory across the state and will run a month longer if Gov. Harriman signs a bill awaiting his action.

The measure won final legislative approval in the Assembly yesterday despite the objections of a group of upstate Republicans. The vote was 117-30.

UNDER THE BILL, clocks would be advanced one hour from the last Sunday in April to the last Sunday in October for this and ensuing years. The bill would repeal the present law allowing cities, villages and towns to decide whether they should adopt daylight saving time and to fix the period for it.

The practice has been to set the period from the last Sunday in April to the last Sunday in September.

OPPONENTS of the bill protested that it would throw farmers off schedule. The Assembly sponsor, John R. Brook, Manhattan Republican, argued that the measure was necessary to eliminate time conflicts with neighboring states.

The bill was introduced in the Senate by Pliny Williamson, Scarsdale Republican.

RECENTLY Heisman opened his own clothing store at 773 Broadway, offering personalized service along with the fitting and knowledge gained during his years of association with the clothing business in all departments.

In commenting upon his 25 years in the local market, Al Heisman remarked that "it has been extremely pleasant dealing with the people of Ulster county—so much so that I am now operating my own establishment and endeavoring to maintain my reputation for practical dealing with the public."

Social Security Law Changes

George J. Johnson, district manager of Social Security Administration in Kingston, submits the following article on changes in the Social Security Law:

Recent changes in the Social Security Law vitally affect every American family. Not only does the new law extend old-age and survivors insurance to ten million additional workers, but it also provides added protection to those already covered under the old law.

Nine out of ten jobs are now covered by this law, 91 million people already having earned some form of credits under this program.

SEVENTY PER CENT of those who will reach 65 years of age within the next five years will be eligible for a retirement benefit. Only ten per cent of the people who reached age 65 twenty years ago were entitled to any form of retirement benefit.

As a result of the 1954 amendments, in two years nine out of ten mothers and young children will be entitled to monthly benefits at the death of the family breadwinner. Compare this with the limited protection these survivors had 20 years ago.

Besides expanding Social Security coverage, the recent amendments increased Social Security benefits for those already receiving payments as well as for those who will become eligible in the future.

NEARLY EVERYONE has a stake in Social Security. By knowing the law, you will understand the full extent of the financial protection it provides for you and your family. Does your wife have your number? Your Social Security account may be worth thousands of dollars to her if you should die. Does she know where to find your account card—birth certificates of children under 18—marriage certificate? She should have these papers to file a proper application with the Social Security administration for survivors benefits.

If you wish additional information, telephone, write or visit your local district office and ask for pamphlet OASI-35 about your Social Security.

Social Security Law Changes

George J. Johnson, district manager of Social Security Administration in Kingston, submits the following article on changes in the Social Security Law:

Recent changes in the Social Security Law vitally affect every American family. Not only does the new law extend old-age and survivors insurance to ten million additional workers, but it also provides added protection to those already covered under the old law.

Nine out of ten jobs are now covered by this law, 91 million people already having earned some form of credits under this program.

SEVENTY PER CENT of those who will reach 65 years of age within the next five years will be eligible for a retirement benefit. Only ten per cent of the people who reached age 65 twenty years ago were entitled to any form of retirement benefit.

As a result of the 1954 amendments, in two years nine out of ten mothers and young children will be entitled to monthly benefits at the death of the family breadwinner. Compare this with the limited protection these survivors had 20 years ago.

Besides expanding Social Security coverage, the recent amendments increased Social Security benefits for those already receiving payments as well as for those who will become eligible in the future.

NEARLY EVERYONE has a stake in Social Security. By knowing the law, you will understand the full extent of the financial protection it provides for you and your family. Does your wife have your number? Your Social Security account may be worth thousands of dollars to her if you should die. Does she know where to find your account card—birth certificates of children under 18—marriage certificate? She should have these papers to file a proper application with the Social Security administration for survivors benefits.

If you wish additional information, telephone, write or visit your local district office and ask for pamphlet OASI-35 about your Social Security.

Traffic, Housing Wagner Subjects

New York, March 23 (AP)—Mayor Robert F. Wagner says "it is too much to hope that our traffic problem will ever be finally and completely solved."

"The fact remains that New York is a busy and attractive city, and the more attractive we make it, the busier it becomes."

However, the mayor said in his "state of the city" message to the city council yesterday that there has been a "discernable improvement" in the traffic situation. He said "steps are being taken to ease the congestion which wastes our time and frays our tempers."

COMMENTING on housing, Wagner said the large movement of city dwellers to the suburbs must be halted if the city is to prosper. "We must face the fact," he conceded, "that living conditions are far from satisfactory in large areas of our town."

The mayor, who surveyed several other city problems, said 1954 was a year of "solid accomplishment" for his Democratic administration.

Commenting on fiscal problems, he said the city accepts as "necessary and proper" its share of state and federal operations.

"WHEN THE city attempts to finance its own operations," he added, "we are frustrated by outmoded tax and debt limits, unfair formulas for the distribution of state-collected revenues, and unduly restrictive controls over city affairs. New attitudes and new concepts in city financing are badly needed."

Among his 1955 goals the mayor listed provision of a comprehensive long-range solution for the recurring revenue deficiencies, carrying through of the 129-million-dollar school building program, and completion of the career and salary plan for city employes.

Court May Give Week To Segregation Talks

Washington, March 23 (AP)—The Supreme Court may devote a full week, beginning April 11, to hearing suggestions on when and how to order an end to racial segregation in public schools.

In announcing yesterday that the court would begin hearing arguments next month, Clerk Harold B. Milley said a full week might be required if all interested parties use the full time allotted them.

The arguments had been scheduled for last Dec. 6, but were postponed after the death of Justice Robert H. Jackson. A full bench of nine judges will again be available when Jackson's successor, Judge John Marshall Harlan, takes his place on the court next Monday.

Racial segregation in public schools was unanimously ruled unconstitutional by the court last May 17. But the court called for the new arguments on how best to put the decision into effect.

The timetable gives the court about two months before its normal summer recess to take further action.

Bills in Legislature

Albany, March 23 (AP)—New salary scales for state police and district school superintendents will go into effect April 1.

Gov. Harriman's office announced today the signing of two budget measures. One boosts the pay of the men in gray from deputy superintendent down to private. The other increases the salary of the school officials from $6,000 to $7,300 a year.

The bills were among a dozen that the governor signed Monday. Others insure that the weight of truck drivers is not figured in the gross weight of the vehicle, and repeal an ancient law authorizing city colonies for inebriates.

MEANWHILE, with April 5 as the target date for adjournment, both the Senate and Assembly worked their way through fat calenders.

The Senate approved unanimously three measures designed to lighten the taxes on bus companies, which the Public Service Commission says face tough sledding to stay in the black.

Two measures sponsored by Republican Sen. Arthur H. Wicks of Kingston would cut bus companies' tax on diesel fuel to four cents a gallon, instead of the present six, and exempt the firms from a so-called "additional" state franchise tax of one half of one per cent on their gross earnings.

ANOTHER BILL, introduced by Republican Sen. William S. Hults, Jr., of Port Washington, would exempt bus companies from the state public utility tax of two per cent on gross income.

The pay raises for state police would affect all grades except superintendent. The deputy was raised from $9,850 a year to $12,000.

The old salary range of $2,000-$3,638 for troopers was raised to $2,600-$4,400. Annual increases of $300 are provided for, until the maximum is reached.

Under the new truck law, the weight of a driver and his helper may not be figured into the gross weight of the vehicle. The bill was sponsored by Assemblyman Joseph Ward, Livingston county Republican.

WARD SAID the bill was introduced after an unidentified truck driver was fined for operating a truck weighing 22,300 pounds. After the driver and helper got out of the truck, the scales went down to 22,000 pounds. The 300 pounds—their weight—was the exact amount of the overload.

The governor yesterday signed four other budget bills. He vetoed a measure that would have allowed tavern patrons to buy drinks on credit, whether or not they had bought food.

Harriman, in a memorandum, said that "it has not been satisfactorily demonstrated that there is a need for such a change."

The bill, introduced by Republican Assemblyman John R. Brook of Manhattan, would have cancelled a provision of the State Liquor Authority authorizing liquor on credit only if the purchase is incidental to buying food.

THE BUDGET BILLS would:

1. Raise the pay of members of the State Correction Commission from $11.50 to $14 a day for attending meetings, and boost the limit on total annual pay from $1,150 to $1,400.

2. Boost the minimums for prison wardens and superintendents from $6,386 to $7,450 a year and the maximums from $9,985 to $11,500.

3. Increase the salaries of consultants on dust disease in workmen's compensation cases from $9,378 to $11,000 a year, and increase the fees of State Insurance Fund commissioners from $32.78 to $40 a day.

4. Raise the pay of State Unemployment Insurance Advisory Council members from $32.78 to $40 a day, and members of the State Mediation Board from $25 to $40 a day.

The Assembly passed, 125-15, and sent to the Senate a bill to give New York city permission to tear down its Third avenue elevated railroad, a landmark on Manhattan's east side for more than 50 years.

A measure passed by the Senate raised the possibility that the job of picking a name for the thruway bridge across the Hudson might land in the governor's lap.

The measure would call the span the "Tarrytown-Nyack Bridge." The Senate had passed one earlier that would name it the "Tappan Zee Bridge." Still another bill before the Legislature would call it the "George Clinton Bridge," after New York's first governor.

Harriman will have to make the choice if two or all of the measures get final approval.

DeLaval Head Is Elected Director Of Central Hudson

C. B. Schmidt, president of the De Laval Separator Company, was elected a member of the board of directors of the Central Hudson Gas and Electric Corporation at the annual meeting of stockholders today in the Poughkeepsie general offices.

Schmidt's election to the board fills the vacancy created by the death of William W. Smith 2nd.

EIGHT OTHER directors were reelected at the annual meeting. They were Ernest R. Acker, president and general manager; Peter Cantline, Newburgh; Harris E. Dexter, vice president in charge of commercial relations; Fabian L. Russell, Saugerties; Henry D. Sherwood, Pine Plains; Lelan F. Sillin Jr., vice president and assistant general manager; Alva S. Staples, Kingston; and John Wilkie, vice president and treasurer.

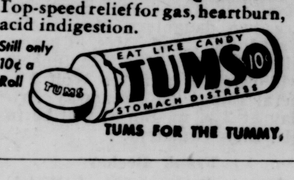

About 60 stockholders were in attendance at the meeting. President Acker answered questions concerning the company's business. Large charts were on display explaining the company's operations and a color slide film entitled Valley of Opportunity was shown to the stockholders.

SCHMIDT, newly-elected director, has been with the De Laval Separator Company since 1922. He was elected vice president and director in 1945 and president and director in 1951. He is also a member of the board of directors of the First National Bank, Poughkeepsie, the Poughkeepsie Chamber of Commerce, Young Men's Christian Association and the Mid-Hudson Industrial Association.

Washington, March 23 (AP)—The Supreme Court may devote a full week, beginning April 11, to hearing suggestions on when and how to order an end to racial segregation in public schools.

In announcing yesterday that the court would begin hearing arguments next month, Clerk Harold B. Milley said a full week might be required if all interested parties use the full time allotted them.

The arguments had been scheduled for last Dec. 6, but were postponed after the death of Justice Robert H. Jackson. A full bench of nine judges will again be available when Jackson's successor, Judge John Marshall Harlan, takes his place on the court next Monday.

Racial segregation in public schools was unanimously ruled unconstitutional by the court last May 17. But the court called for the new arguments on how best to put the decision into effect.

The timetable gives the court about two months before its normal summer recess to take further action.

Bills in Legislature

Albany, March 23 (AP)—New salary scales for state police and district school superintendents will go into effect April 1.

Gov. Harriman's office announced today the signing of two budget measures. One boosts the pay of the men in gray from deputy superintendent down to private. The other increases the salary of the school officials from $6,000 to $7,300 a year.

The bills were among a dozen that the governor signed Monday. Others insure that the weight of truck drivers is not figured in the gross weight of the vehicle, and repeal an ancient law authorizing city colonies for inebriates.

MEANWHILE, with April 5 as the target date for adjournment, both the Senate and Assembly worked their way through fat calenders.

The Senate approved unanimously three measures designed to lighten the taxes on bus companies, which the Public Service Commission says face tough sledding to stay in the black.

Two measures sponsored by Republican Sen. Arthur H. Wicks of Kingston would cut bus companies' tax on diesel fuel to four cents a gallon, instead of the present six, and exempt the firms from a so-called "additional" state franchise tax of one half of one per cent on their gross earnings.

ANOTHER BILL, introduced by Republican Sen. William S. Hults, Jr., of Port Washington, would exempt bus companies from the state public utility tax of two per cent on gross income.

The pay raises for state police would affect all grades except superintendent. The deputy was raised from $9,850 a year to $12,000.

The old salary range of $2,000-$3,638 for troopers was raised to $2,600-$4,400. Annual increases of $300 are provided for, until the maximum is reached.

Under the new truck law, the weight of a driver and his helper may not be figured into the gross weight of the vehicle. The bill was sponsored by Assemblyman Joseph Ward, Livingston county Republican.

WARD SAID the bill was introduced after an unidentified truck driver was fined for operating a truck weighing 22,300 pounds. After the driver and helper got out of the truck, the scales went down to 22,000 pounds. The 300 pounds—their weight—was the exact amount of the overload.

The governor yesterday signed four other budget bills. He vetoed a measure that would have allowed tavern patrons to buy drinks on credit, whether or not they had bought food.

Harriman, in a memorandum, said that "it has not been satisfactorily demonstrated that there is a need for such a change."

The bill, introduced by Republican Assemblyman John R. Brook of Manhattan, would have cancelled a provision of the State Liquor Authority authorizing liquor on credit only if the purchase is incidental to buying food.

THE BUDGET BILLS would:

1. Raise the pay of members of the State Correction Commission from $11.50 to $14 a day for attending meetings, and boost the limit on total annual pay from $1,150 to $1,400.

2. Boost the minimums for prison wardens and superintendents from $6,386 to $7,450 a year and the maximums from $9,985 to $11,500.

3. Increase the salaries of consultants on dust disease in workmen's compensation cases from $9,378 to $11,000 a year, and increase the fees of State Insurance Fund commissioners from $32.78 to $40 a day.

4. Raise the pay of State Unemployment Insurance Advisory Council members from $32.78 to $40 a day, and members of the State Mediation Board from $25 to $40 a day.

The Assembly passed, 125-15, and sent to the Senate a bill to give New York city permission to tear down its Third avenue elevated railroad, a landmark on Manhattan's east side for more than 50 years.

A measure passed by the Senate raised the possibility that the job of picking a name for the thruway bridge across the Hudson might land in the governor's lap.

The measure would call the span the "Tarrytown-Nyack Bridge." The Senate had passed one earlier that would name it the "Tappan Zee Bridge." Still another bill before the Legislature would call it the "George Clinton Bridge," after New York's first governor.

Harriman will have to make the choice if two or all of the measures get final approval.

DeLaval Head Is Elected Director Of Central Hudson

C. B. Schmidt, president of the De Laval Separator Company, was elected a member of the board of directors of the Central Hudson Gas and Electric Corporation at the annual meeting of stockholders today in the Poughkeepsie general offices.

Schmidt's election to the board fills the vacancy created by the death of William W. Smith 2nd.

EIGHT OTHER directors were reelected at the annual meeting. They were Ernest R. Acker, president and general manager; Peter Cantline, Newburgh; Harris E. Dexter, vice president in charge of commercial relations; Fabian L. Russell, Saugerties; Henry D. Sherwood, Pine Plains; Lelan F. Sillin Jr., vice president and assistant general manager; Alva S. Staples, Kingston; and John Wilkie, vice president and treasurer.

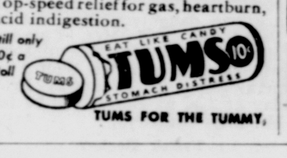

About 60 stockholders were in attendance at the meeting. President Acker answered questions concerning the company's business. Large charts were on display explaining the company's operations and a color slide film entitled Valley of Opportunity was shown to the stockholders.

SCHMIDT, newly-elected director, has been with the De Laval Separator Company since 1922. He was elected vice president and director in 1945 and president and director in 1951. He is also a member of the board of directors of the First National Bank, Poughkeepsie, the Poughkeepsie Chamber of Commerce, Young Men's Christian Association and the Mid-Hudson Industrial Association.

Memoriam

In sad and loving remembrance of our darling daughter, Marlene Rose Tiano, on her 18th birthday. "Happy Birthday in Heaven, Dear."

Forget her? No never, for how could that be,
Of one who has meant so much to me.
We miss her so terribly and sometimes feel,
We're dreaming it all, that it can not be real.
But could she return, we can hear her say,
Don't grieve my Mommy and Daddy it's better this way.
I'm happier here and it's such a relief
To be free of pain and to feel no grief
When I was on earth and your lives did share
'Twas a wonderful thing but cannot compare
To the glorious privilege of living with Him
In this blessed home where there is no sin.

Vote Favors Bevan

London, March 23 (AP)—By the narrow margin of 14-13, the British Labor party's national executive committee decided today to give leftwing rebel, Aneurin Bevan, a chance to repent and avoid a vote to expel him. Former Prime Minister Clement Attlee, against whose moderate leadership Bevan has rebelled, made the compromise proposal to have talks with Bevan "with a view to seeking assurances as to his future conduct as a member of the party."

Grand island, in the middle of the ice-jammed Niagara river, and Cayuga island in Niagara Falls, were particularly hard-hit as wind-driven ice and water battered the shorelines.

A jumbled mass of ice caused the river to rise about five feet and flood over waterfront streets

Sheriff's deputies and volunteer firemen used boats last night to help several families leave their flooded homes on Cayuga island.

THE SAME WAS true in the village of Woodlawn, which is on Lake Erie's shore south of Buffalo. Several streets near the shore were awash with a foot or so of water, and many families fled their homes.

On Grand Island, piles of ice ground against piers and waterfront summer homes. Water covered half a city block on one street and forced several families to evacuate.

In Niagara Falls, police said the volume of ice flowing over Horseshoe Falls appeared to be the heaviest in years. A tremendous accumulation of ice in the river gorge "doubled in size in the past 24 hours," said one park policeman.

The high winds began lacing western and central New York just before noon yesterday and prompted the Weather Bureau in Buffalo to issue warnings of possible tornado conditions. The warning was withdrawn, however, as conditions changed later in the day.

DAUGHTER

Memoriam

In sad and loving remembrance of our darling daughter, Marlene Rose Tiano, on her 18th birthday. "Happy Birthday in Heaven, Dear."

Forget her? No never, for how could that be,
Of one who has meant so much to me.
We miss her so terribly and sometimes feel,
We're dreaming it all, that it can not be real.
But could she return, we can hear her say,
Don't grieve my Mommy and Daddy it's better this way.
I'm happier here and it's such a relief
To be free of pain and to feel no grief
When I was on earth and your lives did share
'Twas a wonderful thing but cannot compare
To the glorious privilege of living with Him
In this blessed home where there is no sin.

Sheriff's deputies and volunteer firemen used boats last night to help several families leave their flooded homes on Cayuga island.

THE SAME WAS true in the village of Woodlawn, which is on Lake Erie's shore south of Buffalo. Several streets near the shore were awash with a foot or so of water, and many families fled their homes.

On Grand Island, piles of ice ground against piers and waterfront summer homes. Water covered half a city block on one street and forced several families to evacuate.

In Niagara Falls, police said the volume of ice flowing over Horseshoe Falls appeared to be the heaviest in years. A tremendous accumulation of ice in the river gorge "doubled in size in the past 24 hours," said one park policeman.

The high winds began lacing western and central New York just before noon yesterday and prompted the Weather Bureau in Buffalo to issue warnings of possible tornado conditions. The warning was withdrawn, however, as conditions changed later in the day.

Army Hopes to End Probe on Dix Hospital

Ft. Dix, N. J., March 23 (AP)—The army says it hopes to wind up its probe of medical treatment available at Ft. Dix with the testimony Sunday of the fiancee of a soldier who died of meningitis.

The public information office announced yesterday that Miss Barbara Birnbach, 18, of Far Rockway, N. Y., plans to visit the big eastern training base March 27.

THE INVESTIGATION was started in the wake of reports of poor medical treatment following the death of Pvt. Irwin Weinrib, 18, of Far Rockway, Feb. 22.

Weinrib and another soldier died of acute meningococcemia. A third soldier is convalescing from an attack of the disease.

At the time of Weinrib's death there were reports that he complained of the medical treatment he received in letters to his fiancee, Miss Birnbach.

A congressional subcommittee is scheduled to visit the post Thursday in a separate probe of medical facilities. It will hold a hearing in New York the following day.

IBM in Need presenting the problem and suggesting that those present go back to their communities and see that an active housing committee be named to formulate definite plans.

HE SAID THERE was in this area many hotels, inns, boarding houses and motels which operated for a few weeks during the summer season. Many of these could now be converted into year around facilities to accommodate the IBM need and give a good return to the owners.

J. Ellis Briggs, president of the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce, was presented by Mr. Cullen, and said Ulster county was fortunate in having such a company as IBM locate here.

Briggs said he was most optimistic over the future and felt that perhaps many people did not fully realize the importance of the coming of IBM to the Kingston area. He said the Chamber of Commerce would do everything possible to give assistance and he stressed the benefits to the community and to all of Ulster county and the surrounding area.

MAYOR Frederick H. Stang said the city realized its responsibilities to the people of the community, but there was an additional responsibility to the people of the entire area which he said must be met by the city if Kingston and the surrounding area is to meet the challenge.

The coming of IBM to this area, he said, was not alone a Kingston or a town of Ulster proposition but an area proposition. Improved public utilities, better street lighting, better shops, better amusements and many other things figured in the problem of making the area more attractive, he stressed.

The matter of reassessments he said was also a vital part of the financial program and he said this was now under study. A challenge had been thrown to us and we should accept it, Mayor Stang said, and he expressed confidence that the challenge would be met and that as a result Kingston and the surrounding area would benefit vastly.

Stang spoke of the high type of IBM employes and in conclusion said "We are glad you came and hope you stay a long time. Good luck to you and we will do all we can to help you."

PRIOR TO the dinner the group inspected the IBM plant, being conducted through the plant by officials of the company.

R. E. McNaughton, director of the department of education presented a form which may be filled out and filed with IBM giving information in regard to available housing units. These forms require information as to rooms available, how equipped, number of occupants, bath, kitchen privileges, type of heating, laundry facilities, parking available, whether breakfast and evening meals will be available, rates and location of the available housing.

COPIES OF the form may be obtained from the IBM, department of education, Kingston.

Among the IBM representatives who attended the meeting were:

Horace C. Bailer, coordinator, defense field engineering; Gavin A. Cullen, general manager; James H. Fraser, administrative assistant to general manager; Carroll F. Lynch, production engineer; Richard E. McNaughton, manager, department of education; Donald B. Otis, works accountant; Kenneth B. Robinson, manager, defense field engineering education; Ralph C. Sampson, manager, defense field engineering; John F. Schuehler, technical assistant to general manager; Paul F. Steinkuller, personnel manager; Richard J. Whalen, superintendent.

Taking No Chances

Albany, March 23 (AP)—Bellboy Donald Doyle had no desire to test the adage that "barking dogs don't bite." Doyle was headed to buy food for his dog yesterday when two other canines interrupted a fight and gave chase. The bellboy ducked into a telephone booth, where he spent a stuffy 35 minutes with first one and then both of his pursuers snapping at him. Doyle dialed the humane society, whose representatives coralled the dogs. "Barking dogs don't bite," the man said. "I was taking no chances," rebutted Doyle.

Carroll Made Deputy

Albany, March 23 (AP)—William A. Carroll, a former U. S. marshal, is the new deputy commissioner of motor vehicles in charge of the New York city office. His appointment to the $10,000-a-year job was announced yesterday by George M. Bragalini, commissioner of taxation and finance. Carroll succeeds Niles R. Becker, who is retiring. Carroll served as U. S. marshal for the 11-county southeastern New York district from 1950 to 1953. He was a New York city councilman from 1936 to 1946.

Three of Staff Resign Positions At Onteora School

CHARLES TRAPHAGEN

Boiceville, March 23 — The board of education of Onteora Central School announced today the resignation of two members of its teaching staff and one of its administrators.

Charles Traphagen, director of guidance since 1951, has accepted a position as director of guidance of the Vestal Central School at Vestal. Traphagen will supervise a central school with an enrollment of approximately 4,000 students located in a rapidly growing area in the Binghamton section of the state. The enrollment of Vestal school is expected to rise to around 6,000.

IN HIS LETTER to the board of education, Traphagen expressed "regret that he had decided to leave Onteora, but he couldn't afford to miss the professional advancements that Vestal offered to him." Traphagen organized the original department of guidance of the Onteora Central School which has acquired a reputation of being one of the best throughout the state.

Miss Maureen Davis of Kingston has resigned her position as language teacher and will accept a similar position at Guilderland Central School, Altamont. Miss Davis will complete her third year of teaching at Onteora. She was a member of the original staff when the school was first opened.

Miss Georgia Belmore of Eddyville has accepted a position as an elementary teacher in the Fairlawn, New Jersey school system. Her resignation is effective at the end of the present school year.

The board has made no announcements about replacement for these members of the staff.

A SPECIAL SCHOOL meeting of the voters of Glenford School District, Hurley No. 7 will be held Monday night, March 28, for the purpose of disposing of the school property. Two propositions are being placed before the voters. One is that the school should be sold to the West Hurley Fire District with the provision if the building ceases to be used as a fire house it will revert back to the district. The other proposition to be voted on is whether or not the school will be sold by asking for sealed bids. The meeting will be called at 8 p. m. A large turnout of the voters is expected.

Denies Separation Talk

Newark, N. J., March 23 (AP)—Opera soprano Irra Petina arrived at Newark Airport last night from Florida. She spent three days there with her physician husband, Dr. F. R. Bussey Jr., seriously burned in a guest house fire Friday which claimed the life of a woman companion. She said her husband was improving from what she called a horrible accident. She denied again reports she was seeking a separation from her husband, a prominent eye specialist. She said she went to Florida because "he needed me and I wanted to be with him."

'Bad Light,' He Says

Hartford, Conn., March 23 (AP)—Gov. Ribicoff has reported that counsel for the owner of the controversial Kent House in Greenwich told him the dispute over the property had placed his client in an "unjustifiably bad light." The governor conferred yesterday with Attorney Arthur R. Ivey, representing Kent House owner Theodore Zuber, and later told a press conference he hoped a quick decision could be reached on the question of how much the state should pay for the summer hotel. The Kent House lies in the path of the proposed 400 million dollar Greenwich-Killingly expressway.

Negotiations for sale of the property were handled by R. E. Craft, local business realtor. Attorney James J. Abernethy represented the sellers and Attorney N. Jansen Fowler the Shell Company.

Why do we offer 2 TYPES of Checking Accounts—Regular and ThriftiCheck ?

There is a good reason why we offer both Regular Checking Account and THRIFTICHECK Account services to our customers.

Some people draw many checks, make frequent deposits, keep substantial sums in their accounts and give the bank's name for credit reference. A Regular Checking Account is best for them because they ordinarily maintain an account balance large enough to cover operating expenses and consequently there is little or no charge for this kind of service.

Others keep less money in their account — some have just enough to take care of the checks they draw — and the number of checks is relatively few. These customers have a THRIFTICHECK Account which normally costs only pennies per check.

Both Regular Checking and THRIFTICHECK Account customers enjoy the advantages of convenience and safety.

Here you will find whichever checking-account service is best for your own particular personal needs. May we tell you more about these services?

WOODSTOCK NEWS

By RICHARD E. THIBAUT, Jr.

Puppet Benefit PlannedforSchool

Woodstock, March 22 — The charming puppets designed by Margaret Wetterau last year for the story of Rip Van Winkle, based on the Washington Irving tale, will be presented by Mrs. Wetterau for the benefit of the Tinker Street Nursery School. One of the Grimm's Fairy Tales will also be included in the program. There will be two showings of the performance on Saturday, April 16, one at 3 p. m., and one at 4 p. m., at the Woodstock Art Gallery. The price will be 25c for both adults and children.

The Rip Van Winkle puppets were presented all last summer at the popular Rip's Retreat at North Lake. Mrs. Wetterau made and designed both the puppets and the small theatre in which they were presented, as well as all of the scenery for the show. This will be the first time that the Rip Van Winkle puppets have been shown in Woodstock, although many of her other puppets made by the artist and the children in her classes at the Guild of Craftsmen have been seen at the Library Fair and other benefits.

THE TINKER STREET Nursery school will also hold a rummage sale on April 30 at the Art Gallery, from 10 a. m. on throughout the day. The annual spring rummage sale will include furniture, food, old clothing in good condition, glassware and dishes.

At the last meeting of the Nursery School, Thursday, March 17, Mrs. David Carlson gave a thorough digest of the book, Jealousy in Children. Discussion concluded with the thought that it is indeed a challenge to be a good parents when everyone is fighting for mother's attention.

The next meeting of the Nursery School will be held Thursday, April 21, at the Art Gallery.

Pike Gives Talk On Illustrating

Woodstock, March 22—A vivid demonstration of how an illustrator creates a magazine painting for a story, beginning with the selection of a likely scene from the manuscript, was described by John Pike, nationally known water color artist and illustrator, at the meeting of the Square Club last Thursday night. He showed the steps required and told of the difficulties encountered by the artist and of the problems which must be overcome before a suitable illustration can be completed.

PIKE MENTIONED specifically the series of colorful stories by Charles B. Child, tales of the exploits of the sleuth of Baghdad, Inspector Chafik J. Chafik, and his able assistant Abdullah, for which to date he has completed 28 illustrations. One of the stories is slated for publication in Collier's in the near future. Many of the Square Club members present were surprised to learn that the model for the redoubtable Inspector Chafik, who is now rivaling Charlie Chan in popularity as a detective with an enviable Oriental finesse, has frequently been their brother Mason, Bill Miller of Shady. Miller also posed for the demonstration sketch.

About 50 members and their guests were present at the meeting.

John Pike leaves Wednesday on special assignment with the U. S. Air Force, to make sketches for a week or two at Thule, the remote air base in Greenland.

To Blanket Fires

Chicago (AP)—How to use a blanket in hospital fires is explained in a new manuel distributed to the Chicago Civil Defense Corps. Written by fireman Robert McGrath, it says a blanket can be used to smother fire, drag patients from rooms or as a stretcher to carry patients down stairways.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

Here's an Example Of 'Reverse' Bid

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

South's rebid of two hearts, in today's hand, was a "reverse," showing a minimum count of 17 points (including distribution). The normal method of bidding hearts and diamonds is to show the higher suit first; and bidding them in the reverse order, as in today's hand, shows strength.

The reason is that the reverse bid may well compel North to show a preference for diamonds at the nine-trick level even though North may have a very poor hand. South himself must have a strong hand if he can afford to push the bidding up to so high a level.

North naturally went right for a slam when he added his own points to those shown by South's strong bidding. North had 16 points in high cards alone, together with a splendid fit for hearts and good distribution. North used the Blackwood Convention to find out that South had two aces and two kings. Since it was clear that one king was missing, North prudently stopped at a small slam.

West opened the eight of spades, and South looked for the safest way to play for his slam contract. After some thought he decided on a cross-ruff.

Dummy took the first trick with the ace of spades and cashed the king of diamonds. South next took the two top clubs and then the ace of diamonds, discarding dummy's last club.

South now had to ruff either a club or a diamond in dummy. The choice was very close, practically a guess, but South finally decided to ruff a club. (Either suit would have worked, actually, since East couldn't overruff the dummy; but South couldn't know this.)

One more small ruff was necessary, so declarer led a spade from the dummy and ruffed with the eight of hearts. When this ruff succeeded, the slam was assured.

South ruffed a diamond with dummy's queen of hearts, a spade with his own jack of hearts, another diamond with dummy's ace of hearts, and another spade with his own king of hearts. These plays were safe, of course, since the ruffs were made with master trumps.

Finally, South led his last diamond and ruffed with dummy's seven of hearts. South no longer worried about an overruff. If the seven of hearts won (as was actually the case), it would furnish declarer's 12th trick; and if an opponent overruffed with the ten, South's nine of hearts would give him the vital 12th trick.

WOODSTOCK NEWS

By RICHARD E. THIBAUT, Jr.

Puppet Benefit PlannedforSchool

Woodstock, March 22 — The charming puppets designed by Margaret Wetterau last year for the story of Rip Van Winkle, based on the Washington Irving tale, will be presented by Mrs. Wetterau for the benefit of the Tinker Street Nursery School. One of the Grimm's Fairy Tales will also be included in the program. There will be two showings of the performance on Saturday, April 16, one at 3 p. m., and one at 4 p. m., at the Woodstock Art Gallery. The price will be 25c for both adults and children.

The Rip Van Winkle puppets were presented all last summer at the popular Rip's Retreat at North Lake. Mrs. Wetterau made and designed both the puppets and the small theatre in which they were presented, as well as all of the scenery for the show. This will be the first time that the Rip Van Winkle puppets have been shown in Woodstock, although many of her other puppets made by the artist and the children in her classes at the Guild of Craftsmen have been seen at the Library Fair and other benefits.

THE TINKER STREET Nursery school will also hold a rummage sale on April 30 at the Art Gallery, from 10 a. m. on throughout the day. The annual spring rummage sale will include furniture, food, old clothing in good condition, glassware and dishes.

At the last meeting of the Nursery School, Thursday, March 17, Mrs. David Carlson gave a thorough digest of the book, Jealousy in Children. Discussion concluded with the thought that it is indeed a challenge to be a good parents when everyone is fighting for mother's attention.

The next meeting of the Nursery School will be held Thursday, April 21, at the Art Gallery.

Pike Gives Talk On Illustrating

Woodstock, March 22—A vivid demonstration of how an illustrator creates a magazine painting for a story, beginning with the selection of a likely scene from the manuscript, was described by John Pike, nationally known water color artist and illustrator, at the meeting of the Square Club last Thursday night. He showed the steps required and told of the difficulties encountered by the artist and of the problems which must be overcome before a suitable illustration can be completed.

PIKE MENTIONED specifically the series of colorful stories by Charles B. Child, tales of the exploits of the sleuth of Baghdad, Inspector Chafik J. Chafik, and his able assistant Abdullah, for which to date he has completed 28 illustrations. One of the stories is slated for publication in Collier's in the near future. Many of the Square Club members present were surprised to learn that the model for the redoubtable Inspector Chafik, who is now rivaling Charlie Chan in popularity as a detective with an enviable Oriental finesse, has frequently been their brother Mason, Bill Miller of Shady. Miller also posed for the demonstration sketch.

About 50 members and their guests were present at the meeting.

John Pike leaves Wednesday on special assignment with the U. S. Air Force, to make sketches for a week or two at Thule, the remote air base in Greenland.

Chicago (AP)—How to use a blanket in hospital fires is explained in a new manuel distributed to the Chicago Civil Defense Corps. Written by fireman Robert McGrath, it says a blanket can be used to smother fire, drag patients from rooms or as a stretcher to carry patients down stairways.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

Here's an Example Of 'Reverse' Bid

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

South's rebid of two hearts, in today's hand, was a "reverse," showing a minimum count of 17 points (including distribution). The normal method of bidding hearts and diamonds is to show the higher suit first; and bidding them in the reverse order, as in today's hand, shows strength.

The reason is that the reverse bid may well compel North to show a preference for diamonds at the nine-trick level even though North may have a very poor hand. South himself must have a strong hand if he can afford to push the bidding up to so high a level.

North naturally went right for a slam when he added his own points to those shown by South's strong bidding. North had 16 points in high cards alone, together with a splendid fit for hearts and good distribution. North used the Blackwood Convention to find out that South had two aces and two kings. Since it was clear that one king was missing, North prudently stopped at a small slam.

West opened the eight of spades, and South looked for the safest way to play for his slam contract. After some thought he decided on a cross-ruff.

Dummy took the first trick with the ace of spades and cashed the king of diamonds. South next took the two top clubs and then the ace of diamonds, discarding dummy's last club.

South now had to ruff either a club or a diamond in dummy. The choice was very close, practically a guess, but South finally decided to ruff a club. (Either suit would have worked, actually, since East couldn't overruff the dummy; but South couldn't know this.)

One more small ruff was necessary, so declarer led a spade from the dummy and ruffed with the eight of hearts. When this ruff succeeded, the slam was assured.

South ruffed a diamond with dummy's queen of hearts, a spade with his own jack of hearts, another diamond with dummy's ace of hearts, and another spade with his own king of hearts. These plays were safe, of course, since the ruffs were made with master trumps.

Finally, South led his last diamond and ruffed with dummy's seven of hearts. South no longer worried about an overruff. If the seven of hearts won (as was actually the case), it would furnish declarer's 12th trick; and if an opponent overruffed with the ten, South's nine of hearts would give him the vital 12th trick.

Cancer Drive Chairmen Designated for Towns

Names of the township chairmen for the Ulster County Cancer Crusade during the month of April were announced today by Charles M. Rinschler, general chairman for the crusade. It was through the efforts of Parran A. Gates of Lake Katrine, suburban chairman for the crusade, that these members were assembled.

From his office at the Parish Linoleum Co., Gates explained, "The work is divided so that the achievements of each of these chairmen will count to the utmost in the continuing battle against mankind's cruelest enemy. Our chairmen will have sub-committees for residential solicitation and for trades, industrial and various organized groups to become part of this crusade—all pointing to the campaign climax on Friday evening, April 22."

The committee heads for towns are as follows:

Denning, Mrs. Harry Cole, Branch.

Esopus, Mrs. Arthur Freeman; co-chairman, Maynard Oakley.

Gardiner, Mrs. Jonathan Penny, Gardiner.

Hardenbergh, Mrs. John D. Haynes, Arkville.

Hurley, Mrs. Ira Saxe, West Hurley and Mrs. Jack Gill, Hurley.

Kingston, Joseph Carcaramo, Sawkill.

Lloyd, Mrs. Walter Seamon, Highland.

Marbletown, Mrs. William Quick, High Falls; Mrs. William Bryant, Cottekill; Alan McCorkle, Stone Ridge.

Marlborough, Mrs. Pearl Smith, Marlborough.

Plattekill, Mrs. Lillian Courter, Modena.

Rochester, Mrs. Julius Herschowsky, Accord.

Rosendale, Mrs. Clyde Lewis, Rosendale; Mrs. Joseph Yunker, Bloomington.

Saugerties, Frank Greco, Saugerties.

Shandaken, Mrs. Vincent Sommerville, Shandaken.

Ulster, Mrs. Rudolph Soltys, Lake Katrine; John Walker, Sawkill road; Mrs. Clifford Bell, Holiday Lane.

Wawarsing, Mrs. H. C. Dembo, Kerhonkson; Earl Haley, Ellenville.

Woodstock, Mrs. Harry Dordick, Woodstock.

William Robertson, campaign treasurer, expressed his thought to all town chairmen, relative to his problems in this crusade. He said, "Working as I do in the Rondout National Bank, I find that I, along with other people who work in banks, are often asked to take on the position of treasurer in local campaigns. I therefore suggest that all town chairmen and executive committee members please try not to bring large amounts of money or coins that are not in rolls and counted. Also be sure to state that all checks are to be made payable to the American Cancer Society. These two items lighten the treasurer's burden to a great extent and with our enthusiastic and conscientious volunteers carrying the facts of cancer peril to the people of Ulster county, our neighbors will give their share of the money needed to provide weapons and ammunition for conquering this painful foe."

The township chairmen are ready to start on April 1 to raise the Ulster county quota of $20,000. This amount appears terribly little compared with the fact that the American Cancer Society in the last 10 years has devoted approximately $35,000,000 to cancer research, General Chairman Rinschler said.

Think It Through

By EDWARD F. HUTTON

After voting a pay raise for themselves of $200 a week, the majority of the House proposed to cut your taxes $20 a year per person and add it to your debt. That's just ducky!

Ike urged the pay raise but is against the tax cut.

Mr. Hutton

$10,000 a year for all Congressmen and Senators comes to $5,310,000. As the Government is running in the red, the five million would have to be borrowed and added to the debt. What an example to the nation! Charge it on the cuff! The number of men in Congress or the Executive branch who resemble Senator Byrd are mighty few.

Makes me think of the woman who said: "It says here in the paper that a man in India can buy a wife for $2. Isn't that awful?" Her husband said: "Why no. A good wife should be worth $2."

If it is "fiscal irresponsibility" to reduce revenue when running in the red, it is equally so to increase spending, as the White House wants to do for foreign aid, schools, roads, salaries, etc.

As long as Spendthrift Stassen, with the blessing of both the White House and Congress, is tossing billions all over the globe, a lot of voters will say a tax cut of even $20, tossed to the home folks, would be gratefully received.

How about it, neighbor?

Do You Remember

By SOPHIE MILLER

Speaking of the housing problems of Rondout which certainly were not solved by the building of Colonial Gardens way up on Flatbush avenue to which, it seems, none of our residents from the now soon razed buildings was able to move. The mention of a dream of mine, that is a housing project, on the upper part of Cornell Park, taking in Wurts street, Spring street and Post street, brought intresting response, especially from the women who work in this section. They thought the idea of picture windows to the Hudson and creek would be just fine and if all the rest of the modern conveniences would go with the picture windows like modern bathrooms and kitchenettes, and Cornell Park as their backyard, well they thought it would be ideal, and want to know, when it can happen, and want to know when they would be able to sign up for such apartments. All I can tell them, is to dream right along with me, and perhaps the right people will hear it and do something about a housing project, in Rondout where it is needed.

Some of the men folks asked if Rondout was ever on its own. Rondout certainly was on its own and a powerful commercial part of the vicinity. Rondout was incorporated as a village in May of 1849. At their first meeting of trustees on May 3 of that year, influential George F. Von Beck was chosen president. Only some 287 votes were cast then at their first village election, but this increased to 1,365 at the last corporate election May 3, 1871. Of course women did not vote in those days. So it seems Rondout ran their own affairs for a good 20 years.

James G. Lindsley was president of Rondout in 1852, and 20 years later, 1872 was chosen mayor of the incorporated City of Kingston, formerly Village of Kingston combined with Village of Rondout. So that proves how popular Rondout folks were that the first citizen to be honored as mayor was from Rondout.

At the time the large shipping interests and the big cement manufacturing plant had built up Rondout until it had some 10,000 inhabitants, while Kingston had somewhat less. Rondout became still more important when the first electric trolley car ran on July 31, 1893 and the fare was only five cents. At the time there was the Kingston City line and the Colonial line. They were consolidated in January of 1902, and for the year ending June 30, 1906, some 2,686,244 passengers made their way through the two villages now the City of Kingston. Electric power not only brought electric trolleys to Kingston, but Mr. Coykendall realized the value of the now much discussed Kingston Point and bought it. At great expense, he began to convert it at once into the Kingston Point Park, erecting many buildings, with modern park amusement features, fashioning lagoons and bridges, planting a variety of shrubbery, etc. Everything was so well constructed and out of such good beams that many of the original buildings can be seen although vandals have tried their best to tear them down. Of course fire did destroy the pavilion down to its cement base.

I do hope that Kingston Point Park will be brought back to its original beauty, with the music bandstand in the lagoon, canoes and boats for hire, and all the lovely walks etc., and of course the merry-go-round and many other pleasure amusement rides for summer use. It was known in the gay 1920's as the most attractive public park on the Hudson, a favorite with Kingstonians, and visited annually by nearly one million persons during summer months.

Rev. L. P. Taylor Of Tannersville Is Lenten Guest

The Rev. Lyman P. Taylor, now pastor of the Tannersville Methodist Churh, will be the guest speaker at the fourth Thursday Lenten Series services to be held in St. James Methodist Church Thursday at 7:30 p. m. following the fellowship supper.

Son of a parsonage family, the Rev. Mr. Taylor is a graduate of Westminster College in New Wilmington, Pa., and received his Bachelor of Divinity degree from Drew University, Madison, N. J., in 1948 in the same year that he sailed to Korea to begin a three-year term as teacher in the Paichai Boy's School in Seoul.

With the 1950 outbreak of war at the 38th Parallel, the Rev. Mr. Taylor and his wife were evacuated overland to Pusan from where he was sent to central Japan. He began teaching at Niijima High School, and continued there until July of 1953 when he returned to this country for further study.

His subject will be Is Emmaus in Korea?.

Representatives of St. James Commission on Missions will conduct the devotional hour.

Do It Yourself

Pittsburgh (AP)—J. Raymond Shepard, president of the Pittsburgh chapter, Painting & Decorating Contractors of America (AFL), says his group is no longer fighting the "do-it-yourself" trend. "The publicity on 'do-it-yourself' has created an urge in a large number of people to go buy buckets of paint, brushes and other necessary equipment to paint a room or house," he says. "Only in rare cases will they buy all the materials and equipment necessary to do the job right. "When they get home and are surrounded by their materials, many people become discouraged by the problem and call in an expert. Some get bogged down in the middle of a job and call in an expert. Quite a number finish the job, and then call in an expert to do it over!"

These two items lighten the treasurer's burden to a great extent and with our enthusiastic and conscientious volunteers carrying the facts of cancer peril to the people of Ulster county, our neighbors will give their share of the money needed to provide weapons and ammunition for conquering this painful foe."

The township chairmen are ready to start on April 1 to raise the Ulster county quota of $20,000. This amount appears terribly little compared with the fact that the American Cancer Society in the last 10 years has devoted approximately $35,000,000 to cancer research, General Chairman Rinschler said.

Think It Through

By EDWARD F. HUTTON

After voting a pay raise for themselves of $200 a week, the majority of the House proposed to cut your taxes $20 a year per person and add it to your debt. That's just ducky!

Ike urged the pay raise but is against the tax cut.

Mr. Hutton

$10,000 a year for all Congressmen and Senators comes to $5,310,000. As the Government is running in the red, the five million would have to be borrowed and added to the debt. What an example to the nation! Charge it on the cuff! The number of men in Congress or the Executive branch who resemble Senator Byrd are mighty few.

Makes me think of the woman who said: "It says here in the paper that a man in India can buy a wife for $2. Isn't that awful?" Her husband said: "Why no. A good wife should be worth $2."

If it is "fiscal irresponsibility" to reduce revenue when running in the red, it is equally so to increase spending, as the White House wants to do for foreign aid, schools, roads, salaries, etc.

As long as Spendthrift Stassen, with the blessing of both the White House and Congress, is tossing billions all over the globe, a lot of voters will say a tax cut of even $20, tossed to the home folks, would be gratefully received.

How about it, neighbor?

Do You Remember

By SOPHIE MILLER

Speaking of the housing problems of Rondout which certainly were not solved by the building of Colonial Gardens way up on Flatbush avenue to which, it seems, none of our residents from the now soon razed buildings was able to move. The mention of a dream of mine, that is a housing project, on the upper part of Cornell Park, taking in Wurts street, Spring street and Post street, brought intresting response, especially from the women who work in this section. They thought the idea of picture windows to the Hudson and creek would be just fine and if all the rest of the modern conveniences would go with the picture windows like modern bathrooms and kitchenettes, and Cornell Park as their backyard, well they thought it would be ideal, and want to know, when it can happen, and want to know when they would be able to sign up for such apartments. All I can tell them, is to dream right along with me, and perhaps the right people will hear it and do something about a housing project, in Rondout where it is needed.

Some of the men folks asked if Rondout was ever on its own. Rondout certainly was on its own and a powerful commercial part of the vicinity. Rondout was incorporated as a village in May of 1849. At their first meeting of trustees on May 3 of that year, influential George F. Von Beck was chosen president. Only some 287 votes were cast then at their first village election, but this increased to 1,365 at the last corporate election May 3, 1871. Of course women did not vote in those days. So it seems Rondout ran their own affairs for a good 20 years.

James G. Lindsley was president of Rondout in 1852, and 20 years later, 1872 was chosen mayor of the incorporated City of Kingston, formerly Village of Kingston combined with Village of Rondout. So that proves how popular Rondout folks were that the first citizen to be honored as mayor was from Rondout.

At the time the large shipping interests and the big cement manufacturing plant had built up Rondout until it had some 10,000 inhabitants, while Kingston had somewhat less. Rondout became still more important when the first electric trolley car ran on July 31, 1893 and the fare was only five cents. At the time there was the Kingston City line and the Colonial line. They were consolidated in January of 1902, and for the year ending June 30, 1906, some 2,686,244 passengers made their way through the two villages now the City of Kingston. Electric power not only brought electric trolleys to Kingston, but Mr. Coykendall realized the value of the now much discussed Kingston Point and bought it. At great expense, he began to convert it at once into the Kingston Point Park, erecting many buildings, with modern park amusement features, fashioning lagoons and bridges, planting a variety of shrubbery, etc. Everything was so well constructed and out of such good beams that many of the original buildings can be seen although vandals have tried their best to tear them down. Of course fire did destroy the pavilion down to its cement base.

I do hope that Kingston Point Park will be brought back to its original beauty, with the music bandstand in the lagoon, canoes and boats for hire, and all the lovely walks etc., and of course the merry-go-round and many other pleasure amusement rides for summer use. It was known in the gay 1920's as the most attractive public park on the Hudson, a favorite with Kingstonians, and visited annually by nearly one million persons during summer months.

Rev. L. P. Taylor Of Tannersville Is Lenten Guest

The Rev. Lyman P. Taylor, now pastor of the Tannersville Methodist Churh, will be the guest speaker at the fourth Thursday Lenten Series services to be held in St. James Methodist Church Thursday at 7:30 p. m. following the fellowship supper.

Son of a parsonage family, the Rev. Mr. Taylor is a graduate of Westminster College in New Wilmington, Pa., and received his Bachelor of Divinity degree from Drew University, Madison, N. J., in 1948 in the same year that he sailed to Korea to begin a three-year term as teacher in the Paichai Boy's School in Seoul.

With the 1950 outbreak of war at the 38th Parallel, the Rev. Mr. Taylor and his wife were evacuated overland to Pusan from where he was sent to central Japan. He began teaching at Niijima High School, and continued there until July of 1953 when he returned to this country for further study.

His subject will be Is Emmaus in Korea?.

Do It Yourself

Pittsburgh (AP)—J. Raymond Shepard, president of the Pittsburgh chapter, Painting & Decorating Contractors of America (AFL), says his group is no longer fighting the "do-it-yourself" trend. "The publicity on 'do-it-yourself' has created an urge in a large number of people to go buy buckets of paint, brushes and other necessary equipment to paint a room or house," he says. "Only in rare cases will they buy all the materials and equipment necessary to do the job right. "When they get home and are surrounded by their materials, many people become discouraged by the problem and call in an expert. Some get bogged down in the middle of a job and call in an expert. Quite a number finish the job, and then call in an expert to do it over!"

PLYMOUTH WINS
OVER "OTHER 2" LOW-PRICE CARS
BY VOTE OF ALMOST 4 TO 1

THOUSANDS PREFER PLYMOUTH'S STYLING IN NATION-WIDE SURVEY!

A well-known independent research organization asked thousands of people—in New York, Chicago, Detroit, Atlanta, Dallas, Los Angeles—to compare the appearance of '55 models of the three low-price cars. Opinions were received from men and women—from people of all ages—from owners of all the different makes of cars. The results of this survey have been summarized below.

Best buy new; better trade-in, too!

HERE'S WHAT OTHERS THOUGHT OF PLYMOUTH!

Compared with low-price car "A"		Compared with low-price car "B"
Plymouth is better looking	62%	Plymouth is better looking	66%
Car "A" is better looking	16%	Car "B" is better looking	17%
Almost 4 to 1 in Plymouth's favor!		Again, almost 4 to 1 for Plymouth!
(22% liked "both about the same")		(17% liked "both about the same")

HERE'S WHY YOU'LL PREFER PLYMOUTH, TOO!

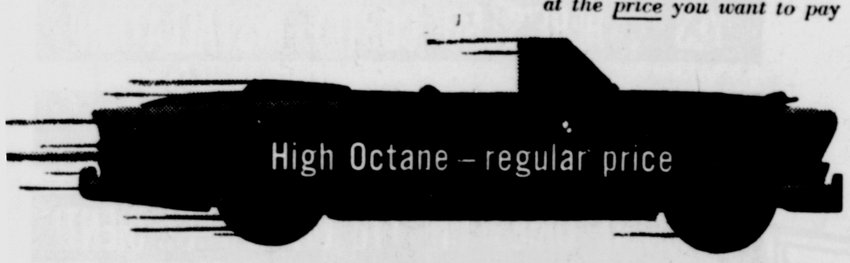

Plymouth '55—with THE FORWARD LOOK—is the only low-price car to offer you honestly new styling, instead of a mere face-lifting. It's bigger than the "other 2" cars (longer than car "A" by 8.4 inches!). It's lower and sleeker, with a host of styling advances that wins the most applause in the lowest-price field. Farmers Find March Prices Not What They Would Like

By SAM DAWSON

New York, March 23 (AP)—March is proving to be the best month for industry in general in well over a year. And the merchant, too, in most instances, is reporting better sales volume than last spring.

But it's a different story for the farmer. Prices for many of the farmer's dollar crops continue to sag. And production is dropping, also, in some cases, such as milk and butter.

FARMERS BLAME a number of things for their woes. Government price supports were lowered, for instance, on dairy products. The price of butter dropped and for a time consumption went up a little. But since the government warehouses had been among the dairy farmer's best customers, total demand was off with the lower prices. And a number of dairy farmers have sold their herds.

Milk production is lower than a year ago, and butter production is running around 13 per cent behind a year ago.

EGG PRICES have continued their decline during March. Price weakness plagued the broiler industry. Poultry farmers cut back some on their output and marketing and poultry in cold storage is now about 15 per cent below the average of recent springs.

Congress is doing some worrying about this. Legislators from the farm states point out that a recession in farm income in the mid-1920's proved to be a forerunner of the stock market crash of 1929.

THE INDUSTRIAL story is entirely different this spring. Paced largely by booming auto factories and unexpectedly busy steel mills, the industrial production index of the Federal Reserve Bank is likely to show a substantial spurt for March when the figures are in some six weeks hence.

The auto production boom has seen some buildup of stocks in new car dealers' hands, but sales have been unseasonally large, too.

WHEN WAGE NEGOTIATIONS with the Auto Workers Union get going full blast, any public nervousness over the prospect of a strike is expected to send even more customers hurrying to the auto dealers. Just when the public's appetite for 1955 models cars will be satisfied is still any one's guess.

Steel mills are producing in the biggest volume since the spring of 1953. The early start on new model auto production sparked the rise in steel mill activity initially. But other manufacturers began pushing up orders. And in recent weeks there are some signs of a return to building up steel inventories—partly because it takes longer to get delivery on steel products now, and partly because the steel union also will be talking higher wages in a few weeks, and steel company officials are saying that would mean higher prices.

COPPER'S PRICE has already gone up once. And with quotations in London rising to a new high, there is renewed talk here of another price hike from the present 33 cents a pound to, say, 35 cents.

The copper shortage here continues to plague users of the metal. One, the Copperweld Steel Co., is closing down its wire and cable division at Glassport, Pa., for a time for a lack of copper. The company says it appears the shortage will last at least until July.

With the coming of spring, the building industry appears ready for another spurt ahead, in spite of some worry over the growing total mortgage debt.

It should be a prosperous spring for large segments of the nation's eocnomy.

Freeman Reporter's Work Is Published In Poetry Quarterly

Foxholes, a poem by Jack Crawford, Jr., of 177 Fair street, has been published in the spring issue of Epos, A Quarterly of Poetry, featuring the work of outstanding American and British poets.

A reporter for The Freeman, Mr. Crawford has had several of his works published previously in other poetry magazines with several accepted for anthologies. Possessor of an MA from Columbia University, he served in the navy during World War 2. His wife is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Craft of 22 Washington avenue.

In The Poets Speak, a feature in the quarterly, Mr. Crawford is quoted as saying, "There is such drear deadness in much modern poetry, it lacks significance and bores to read. Poetry should come from the heart; it should rip and tear at the truth."

The poem appears as follows:

The silence of their eyes screams
nameless words
Into the dark (fingers ice on rifles)
Peering into cold where snow
Blots the dark, the whispering flakes
Sweeping into their lashes and their eyes.

It is so black no gleam appears
On rifle or on bayonet
Eyes in lintels of framing bone
Stare into the silence of the stone.
The wind hurls soft in moan
Against the curving helmet in its steel.

The sleepy texture of their drowsiness
Curls like sled dogs in the snow.
(New dead upon a backward slope
Rest in quiet idleness. Slain.
Beyond the test of pain,
Bound with death's cold flaxen rope.)

Hours in their foxholes they have fought
Pinned upon the point of a map
In an alien and stony lap
Nodding between death and nap,
Hearing in the motion of the wind
The screams of enemy riflemen:
Enemies from a hostile land
Of blossoms and shadows in the sand
Where raving soldiers one time
played—
Dreaming children in the shade.

Local people watched bug-eyed as Chatterton worked and estimated he handled 56 tons of lumber between 8 a. m. and 4 p. m. Freeman Reporter's Work Is Published In Poetry Quarterly

Foxholes, a poem by Jack Crawford, Jr., of 177 Fair street, has been published in the spring issue of Epos, A Quarterly of Poetry, featuring the work of outstanding American and British poets.

A reporter for The Freeman, Mr. Crawford has had several of his works published previously in other poetry magazines with several accepted for anthologies. Possessor of an MA from Columbia University, he served in the navy during World War 2. His wife is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Craft of 22 Washington avenue.

In The Poets Speak, a feature in the quarterly, Mr. Crawford is quoted as saying, "There is such drear deadness in much modern poetry, it lacks significance and bores to read. Poetry should come from the heart; it should rip and tear at the truth."

The poem appears as follows:

The silence of their eyes screams
nameless words
Into the dark (fingers ice on rifles)
Peering into cold where snow
Blots the dark, the whispering flakes
Sweeping into their lashes and their eyes.

It is so black no gleam appears
On rifle or on bayonet
Eyes in lintels of framing bone
Stare into the silence of the stone.
The wind hurls soft in moan
Against the curving helmet in its steel.

The sleepy texture of their drowsiness

Curls like sled dogs in the snow.
(New dead upon a backward slope
Rest in quiet idleness. Slain.
Beyond the test of pain.
Bound with death's cold flaxen rope.)

Hours in their foxholes they have fought

Pinned upon the point of a map
In an alien and stony lap
Nodding between death and nap.
Hearing in the motion of the wind
The screams of enemy riflemen:
Enemies from a hostile land
Of blossoms and shadows in the sand
Where raving soldiers one time
played—

Dreaming children in the shade.

Strong Sales Technique

Columbia, S. C. (AP)—Gordon L. Chatterton who sells lumber for a couple of western firms unloaded 37,000 board feet from a freight car in a single day. William L. Boozer said the job usually takes three days. The Boozer lumber yard had been faced with heavy demurrage charges when Chatterton volunteered to do it in one. Local people watched bug-eyed as Chatterton worked and estimated he handled 56 tons of lumber between 8 a. m. and 4 p. m. The salesman, a husky graduate of the University of Washington, worked his way through school as a longshoreman. Although he still varies his sales routine by taking on unloading jobs, he says he had not unloaded a car of lumber for four months before tackling Boozer's freight.

Town for Sale

Detroit (AP)—A ghost town with crumbling buildings and a legend of hidden gold is on the market for $65,000. The one-time timber and mining town of Fayette in Michigan's Upper Peninsula could be the buy of the year if the legend proved true. The story says one Alphonse Bellanguette, a tavern owner who trusted nobody, buried his profits. While dying he supposedly drew a map. The money never has been found. The map isn't included in the sale price.

HOMEWORK—Final dabs of paint complete the set for tonight's three-act comedy, The Great Big Doorstep to be presented at the George Washington School at 8:30 p. m. Making it all possible are, left to right, Miss Sally Gallagher, Ralph Harper, stage crew, Mrs. Beatrice Flanagan and Miss Patricia Shaw. The play also will be given Thursday night. (Freeman photo)

Feminine Designers Had Problem on Hand With Assignment for Great Big Doorstep

Ask a housewife to design a dream home with all the modern improvements and she's in Seventh Heaven. But ask her to design a dilapidated, broken-down shanty, in the midst of the Louisiana bayou country, and she'll turn on her heel.

The Coach House Players took this chance when they approach members Mrs. William Engelen with Miss Sally Gallagher, to execute the set for tonight's play, The Great Big Doorstep. But they accepted.

(The play goes on at 8:30 p. m. tonight and Thursday at the George Washington School.)

In Mrs. Engelen's words, "We've worked for three weeks on the set, and our biggest problem was that we just couldn't make it look bad enough!"

THE TWO MEMBERS with the artistic bent are the first all-feminine set design team for the Coach House. And quite a problem faced them.

"We worked from a design Sally drew on paper," Harriet Engelen explained. "It was like a jig-saw puzzle to finish it on the set."

Why? "We painted the flats at the Coach House, and the sky backdrop at the George Washington School. We had to keep in our heads how it would look when it was all put together."

RESULT? Only a little shading was necessary to blend the entire design into a proper background for the play.

"WE HAD to find out what sugar cane looked like, to paint in the bayou background of cattails and cane," Harriet continued. "I was in New Orleans a while ago, but the cane I saw was all dried up. And no one could describe it to us. So we painted reeds."

FEMININE DESIGNERS—2

The backdrop will have the clouds floating lazily in the southern sky, with the reed (sugar cane) and cattails waving about in an imaginary breeze. The flats and house will be in the foreground with the doorstep dominating the set.

HELPING WITH the first flat coat of paint on the problem house were Mrs. Beatrice Flanagan and Miss Patricia Shaw, new members of the Coach House Players. The stage crew who constructed the outdoor scene were Ralph Harper, Arthur Hansen, and Richard Becker.

The two lady artists worked several nights a week while the cast rehearsed, as well as weekends. This week has been the most hectic, matching all the pieces to suit the keen eye of Houston Richards, the play's director.

"Dick" Richards described Mrs. Engelen as having been on the "outer fringes of theatre" in her previous work with commercial photography in New York. A course at Traphagen School of Fashion Design led to coloring and retouching in photography instead of her original goal of costume design. Now intensely interested in the amateur group here, she "really loves it."

MISS GALLAGHER spends her spare time away from her teaching duties at George Washington School, studying oil painting at the YWCA. Several of her works were on exhibit at the annual showing last year. So she's no stranger to such a task as set design. She and Mrs. Engelen also hand-made posters for the previous Coach House play.

The set's finished. An old weatherbeaten shanty in a typical bayou setting.

HARRIET'S HAPPY. Now she can go back to looking over bright, modern homes. Her husband's a real estate broker here. (M.D.)

Although lichens are not now used as dye plants, they were so used in ancient times.

Coach House Group To Present Comedy In Kerhonkson

Kerhonkson, March 23 — The Great Big Doorstep, a comedy of life in the Cajun country of Louisiana along the lower Mississippi, will be presented at Kerhonkson High School by the Kingston Coach House Players at 8:30 p. m. Saturday.

The roles of the Commodore and Ma Crochet will be played by Paul Whitten of Accord and Eve Wulff. Impersonating the assorted children will be Joan Curtin, Yolanda Kriz, Robert Steeley, Karen Dawkins and Mary Swezie. Others in the cast are Alton Whitmore, Roy Wulff, Edward Guziak, Maureen Rice and Kay Levy.

The play is directed by Houston Richards. Tickets are on sale at Brown's Drug Store, Indian Valley Inn, and the senior class of Kerhonkson, Breslow's, Accord, Wenigs, Napanoch, and Ed and Al's and Potter Agency, Ellenville.

Kerhonkson Class Visits Factory of Russell Concern

The salesmanship class of Kerhonkson High School with the instructor, Lawrence Ostrander, recently toured the F. L. Russell Corporation, Saugerties, which produces the Sterling products of school supplies and stationery that its sells exclusively to national chains such as F. W. Woolworth and Newberry Corporations.

THE SALESMANSHIP class, which is organized on a club basis, operates a school store for one and a half hours of the school day and is currently engaged in a project emphasizing the need for salesmen to know their products, the manner of production, materials used, and their position in the competitive market.

Profits obtained from this business are used for improvement of the facilities with which the students work and also pay transportation charges for field trips which would not otherwise be possible.

Good Taste Today

MUST ANY RETURN BE MADE?

A wife writes me: "My husband is a minor executive in a large company. In his position he deals closely with many local and out-of-town independent suppliers (older and wealthier) who frequently take us to dinner, the theatre, baseball games, concerts, etc. All of this is a way of saying thank you to my husband for legitimate business favors. My husband and I could not begin to return these invitations on an equal scale and have not attempted to entertain these people in any way. However, this has bothered me for some time and I would like to know if we are obliged to make any return for these invitations? Are thank-you notes after each invitation in order, or necessary?"

As I see it, the things that these people do for you are return to your husband for favors he has done for them and requires no further effort on your part. If you are able to do so, an occasional gift or a few flowers or a box of candy to the hostess would be an appreciative gesture on your part. A verbal thank you as you say good-night is all that is necessary.

A Wedding at Home

Dear Mrs. Post: I am going to be married sometime this spring at home with only about thirty guests present. I am not going to be dressed as a bride but will wear an all white suit. Is it necessary that I wear a hat and gloves during the ceremony?

Answer: You should definitely wear a hat, or some other head covering during the religious ceremony even though not in church. Gloves are correct, but may be dispensed with if you prefer not to wear them.

Accepting Wearing Apparel?

Dear Mrs. Post: Will you please tell me if it is within the realm of good taste, for an engaged girl to accept a very beautiful slip from her fiance for a birthday present? Would the fact that they are going to be married in several months have any bearing on your answer?

Answer: I'm sorry, but she may not correctly accept wearing apparel — especially underthings — before she is married.

Where do the bride and groom stand in the receiving line? Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail. Questions on wedding procedure, the receiving line and other details are answered in leaflet E-2. To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin to Dept. EP, c/o The Kingston Daily Freeman, P. O. A course at Traphagen School of Fashion Design led to coloring and retouching in photography instead of her original goal of costume design. Now intensely interested in the amateur group here, she "really loves it."

MISS GALLAGHER spends her spare time away from her teaching duties at George Washington School, studying oil painting at the YWCA. Several of her works were on exhibit at the annual showing last year. So she's no stranger to such a task as set design. She and Mrs. Engelen also hand-made posters for the previous Coach House play.

The set's finished. An old weatherbeaten shanty in a typical bayou setting.

HARRIET'S HAPPY. Now she can go back to looking over bright, modern homes. Her husband's a real estate broker here. (M.D.)

Coach House Group To Present Comedy In Kerhonkson

Kerhonkson, March 23 — The Great Big Doorstep, a comedy of life in the Cajun country of Louisiana along the lower Mississippi, will be presented at Kerhonkson High School by the Kingston Coach House Players at 8:30 p. m. Saturday.

The roles of the Commodore and Ma Crochet will be played by Paul Whitten of Accord and Eve Wulff. Impersonating the assorted children will be Joan Curtin, Yolanda Kriz, Robert Steeley, Karen Dawkins and Mary Swezie. Others in the cast are Alton Whitmore, Roy Wulff, Edward Guziak, Maureen Rice and Kay Levy.

The play is directed by Houston Richards. Tickets are on sale at Brown's Drug Store, Indian Valley Inn, and the senior class of Kerhonkson, Breslow's, Accord, Wenigs, Napanoch, and Ed and Al's and Potter Agency, Ellenville.

Kerhonkson Class Visits Factory of Russell Concern

The salesmanship class of Kerhonkson High School with the instructor, Lawrence Ostrander, recently toured the F. L. Russell Corporation, Saugerties, which produces the Sterling products of school supplies and stationery that its sells exclusively to national chains such as F. W. Woolworth and Newberry Corporations.

THE SALESMANSHIP class, which is organized on a club basis, operates a school store for one and a half hours of the school day and is currently engaged in a project emphasizing the need for salesmen to know their products, the manner of production, materials used, and their position in the competitive market.

Profits obtained from this business are used for improvement of the facilities with which the students work and also pay transportation charges for field trips which would not otherwise be possible.

Good Taste Today

By EMILY POST

(Author of Etiquette, Children Are People, etc.)

MUST ANY RETURN BE MADE?

A wife writes me: "My husband is a minor executive in a large company. In his position he deals closely with many local and out-of-town independent suppliers (older and wealthier) who frequently take us to dinner, the theatre, baseball games, concerts, etc. All of this is a way of saying thank you to my husband for legitimate business favors. My husband and I could not begin to return these invitations on an equal scale and have not attempted to entertain these people in any way. However, this has bothered me for some time and I would like to know if we are obliged to make any return for these invitations? Are thank-you notes after each invitation in order, or necessary?"

As I see it, the things that these people do for you are return to your husband for favors he has done for them and requires no further effort on your part. If you are able to do so, an occasional gift or a few flowers or a box of candy to the hostess would be an appreciative gesture on your part. A verbal thank you as you say good-night is all that is necessary.

A Wedding at Home

Dear Mrs. Post: I am going to be married sometime this spring at home with only about thirty guests present. I am not going to be dressed as a bride but will wear an all white suit. Is it necessary that I wear a hat and gloves during the ceremony?

Answer: You should definitely wear a hat, or some other head covering during the religious ceremony even though not in church. Gloves are correct, but may be dispensed with if you prefer not to wear them.

Accepting Wearing Apparel?

Dear Mrs. Post: Will you please tell me if it is within the realm of good taste, for an engaged girl to accept a very beautiful slip from her fiance for a birthday present? Would the fact that they are going to be married in several months have any bearing on your answer?

Answer: I'm sorry, but she may not correctly accept wearing apparel — especially underthings — before she is married.

Where do the bride and groom stand in the receiving line? Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail. Questions on wedding procedure, the receiving line and other details are answered in leaflet E-2. To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin to Dept. EP, c/o The Kingston Daily Freeman, P. O. IN OTHER developments:

1. The joint legislative committee investigating illegal wiretapping disclosed it was weighing a bill to forbid eavesdropping on telephone conversations through the use of new electronic devices.

2. The New York City Council and the Association of the Bar of the City of New York took opposite positions on the compulsory automobile safety inspections due to begin May 1.

THE CITY COUNCIL asked the Legislature to delay the start for a year. The bar group joined efforts to persuade Harriman not to interfere with the start.

In the Senate debate on bingo, Majority Leader Walter J. Mahoney declared "the people themselves should pass upon this measure." Looking at the Democrats, he added: "We're not taking a legal bypass and running down a back alley."

Sen. Dutton S. Peterson of Odessa, a Methodist minister, summed up the arguments against bingo by declaring that the game was gambling that would "teach a boy or girl they can get something for nothing."

OTHER REPUBLICAN senators who voted against the measure were George R. Metcalf of Auburn, Warren Anderson of Binghamton, Thomas C. Desmond of Newburgh, Austin W. Erwin of Geneseo, Harry K. Morton of Hornell, George H. Pierce of Olean and Pliny W. Williamson of Scarsdale.

The joint legislative committee to study illegal interception of communications pointed out that present law barring wiretapping did not cover interception of telephone or telegraph messages by new methods.

IN ITS REPORT to Gov. Harriman and the Legislature, the committee said it had seen interceptions made by using induction coils "and other methods which do not employ cutting, breaking, tapping or physical connections."

The committee said an attack on wiretapping would require "time and serious study." It asked that its life be extended for a year beyond the present expiration date, March 31.

THE GROUP also said it was pondering a measure to forbid disclosures of any information about court orders permitting law enforcement agencies to make legal wiretaps.

The Bar Association noted that he was thinking seriously of asking the Legislature to call off or postpone semi-annual automobile check-ups. By Sept 1, all automobiles would be required to bear safety stickers.

Daniel J. Reidy, a member of the association's group insurance section, urged the governor in a letter to give inspections "a fair chance." The State Bar Assn. has taken a similar stand in favor of the inspection law, enacted last year.

The New York city council resolution urged that the enforcement of compulsory inspections be delayed so that "proper protection for the public can be provided."

It asked that Harriman be allowed time to recommend amendments at the next session of the Legislature.

Monticello, Valley Gardens Win High-Scoring Tourney Tilts

Laskowitz Paces Vets, McCarvill 25 for VGs

High-scoring was the menu for Tuesday night's bracket of the Kingston Basketball Tournament with the strong Monticello Vets kayoing the Wappingers Crusaders 110 to 70 and the Valley Gardens upending the Affron Oilers of Newburgh, 91 to 87.

Art Kalaka of the Crusaders was the individual high scorer of the night with 30 points in a losing cause.

The rampaging Monticello quintet showed a tremendous burst of power and on its exhibition last night the club has the offensive to go all the way. The Vets will met Valley Gardens in the semi-finals April 2.

BOB LASKOWITZ, former Monticello High School ace, rimmed 25 points in a glittering display to lead the Vets to their century point victory. Bob Harbig followed with 24.

Len Schwartz kicked in with 15, George Hornbeck 14, Andy McCullough 12 and Bob Diehl 12.

Monticello didn't waste any time in going about its duties. The Vets forged to a 27-12 edge at the first period and led by 49-31 at the half. Monticello rolled to a 75-40 lead at the third period bell and coasted home with a 35-point spree in the final canto.

Wally McCarvill, the Iona College cager, did a yeoman job in bringing the Valley Gardens five to a 91-87 win over Newburgh. McCarvill fired in 17 foul shots and mixed with his five fields, gave him a total of 27 for the night.

Both clubs hit 28 times from the two-point zone but the Gardens' edge was on foul shots, 35 to 31.

VALLEY GARDENS led in both the first and second periods, having a 50-43 edge at halftime. Newburgh, with Bob Spreer and George Kohler hitting with good results, took over the leadership in the third period, 66 to 63 and only a fourth period comeback saved the game for the Gardens quintet. The VGs tallied 28 points in the last period to do the trick.

Spreer was top man for Newburgh with 26 points. Kohler canned 20.

Tournament action resumes Thursday night with Harry's Angels, winners of the Y championship, meeting the Hudson K of C at 7:30 o'clock. Dover Plains and Otisville meet in the 8:30 o'clock attraction.

Lincolns Cop Shuffle Lead

Playing at home against the Rookies Tavern, Lincoln Park Inn piled up an 8 to 2 advantage to take into next Sunday's final playoff at the Tavern board.

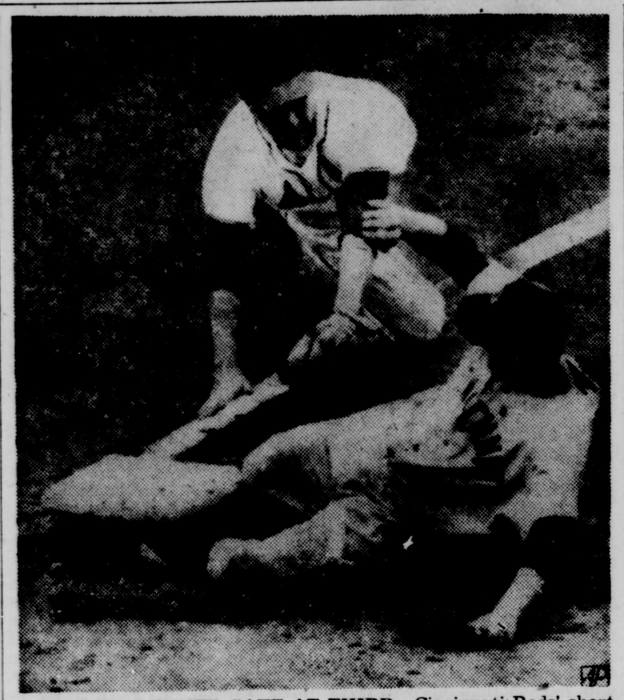

The Lincolns got off to a fast start with wins by Pete Fisher-Bernie Beesmer, George Harmon-Bud Leininger, twice each, and a single win by Art Hotaling and John Carpenter. Harmon broke one of the games wide open by scoring 16 points in two frames.

THE ROOKIES took the sixth game with a win by "Rookie" Prusack and Jim Castle. Lincoln Park came back with a double win by Bob Westfall and Cliff Nichols to make the count 7-1.

Carl Schuster and Don Gallagher combined to give the Rookies the ninth game and Jack Strubel-Bill Schatzel won the 10th for the Inn team to make it 8-2.

Lincoln Park has the edge in points with a total of 65.

High scorers for the day for Lincoln Park were Harmon with 42 followed by Fisher with 34 and Westfall's 31. Gallagher, Castle and "Boots" Coddington led the Rookies with 25, 24 and 22 in that order.

Red Wings, Canadiens Are Off to Flying Start

(By The Associated Press)

The defending champion Detroit Red Wings, favored to win the Stanley Cup hockey playoffs, and the Montreal Canadiens, operating with a "two-platoon" system of goalies, are off to flying starts in their best-of-seven semifinal series.

The Wings, who won the NHL championship for the seventh straight season, whipped the Toronto Maple Leafs 7-4 and the Canadiens blanked the Boston Bruins 2-0 in the playoff openers last night.

DETROIT AGAIN entertains Toronto and Montreal plays host to Boston when both series resume tomorrow night.

Dutch Reibel and Gordie Howe were the mainstays in Detroit's victory. Each scored two goals.

After a 2-2 first period, Detroit clicked twice in the second stanza on goals by Glen Skov and Reibel to move ahead 4-2. Howe's pair of tallies and a goal by Ted Lindsay nullified a Toronto comeback in the third period.

COACH DICK IRVIN of Montreal shuttled goalies Jacques Plante, the Canadiens' regular netminder, and Charlie Hodge, recalled from the Montreal Royals of the Quebec Hockey League, back and forth and the straetgy worked.

Bernie (Boom Boom) Geoffrion, the league's leading scorer, and sophomore star Jean Beliveau collected the Canadiens' goals in the second period while Boston was shorthanded.

League President Clarence Campbell, who was attacked last Thursday by Irate Montreal fans over his suspension of Maurice Richard, attended the game and was the object of sporadic booing. Ten policemen were stationed around his box seat.

Dressen Sees Flag for the Brooks, Says Durochermen Need Pitcher

(By The Associated Press)

Chuck Dressen, the manager who walked out on a pennant winner, figures the Brooklyn Dodgers would have won the National League flag again last season if he had been around. And this season, says he, they'll do it even though he's still not with them "unless they break their arms."

Dressen, returned to the major leagues after sitting out the 1954 season at Oakland, now bosses the Washington Senators in the American League. But his faith still is with the Brooks.

"THEY SHOULD win it easy," said Dressen yesterday. "They've got all the stuff they need. A lot depends on the pitchers, of course. They're there and you've got to get it out of them."

And with those compliments out of the way, Dressen and the Nats proceeded to nudge Brooklyn 4-3 in a 10-inning exhibition game.

But getting back to the Dodgers' failure last season: Dressen said "even with the injuries they had enough stuff on the bench to win. I knew those fellows better; could have gotten more out of them."

It should be mentioned that Walt Alston, the guy who replaced Dressen as Brooklyn manager when Chuck refused to accept a one-year contract, was not within earshot when Dressen held his autopsy. Alston was off with a "B" squad beating Kansas City's Athletics 10-9.

While he was at it, Dressen aimed a jab at the New York Giants' ego. The world champs figure they're set to win again. But Dressen says no. "They got pitching trouble. I think they got to have another pitcher."

ALL OF WHICH must cheer Alston tremendously. But his first-string didn't show all the "stuff" they're supposed to have against the Nats.

The Brooklyns tied it at 3-3 in the ninth when Junior Gilliam came home on Duke Snider's squeeze bunt. But Jesse Levan's pinch single broke it up in the 10th after singles by Roy Sievers and Tom Umphlett and an intentional pass had loaded the bases.

Tom Lasorda was the loser with Bob Porterfield winning. Ed Fitzgerald and Pete Runnels each banged home runs for the Nats off Billy Loes. Fitzgerald suffered a dislocated finger on a foul tip and will be out a week.

BOSTON'S RED SOX also got going late, breaking a 1-1 tie with four eighth inning runs to beat the Pittsburgh Pirates 5-4. The Pirates nicked Ellis Kinder for four hits and a walk in the ninth, but fell short when Toby Atwell grounded out with the winning run on base.

Cleveland held the Chicago Cubs to two hits, but walks and errors gave the Bruins a 3-2 decision.

The Cincinnati Redlegs got to Bobby Tiefenauer for four runs in the ninth, but couldn't catch the St. Louis Cardinals, who scored five on five hits in the last two innings for a 7-6 victory. Tom Alston and Del Rice had three hits each for the Cards, who got one-hit pitching from winner Tony Jacobs over three innings.

Rain washed out the Milwaukee-Philadelphia, Detroit - Baltimore games. The other clubs were not scheduled.

Barr Registers Third Kayo Win

Ken Barr, boxing out of the Glasco Athletic Club, registered his third straight technical knockout in the Adirondack boxing tournament in Albany Tuesday night, this time over Charlie Short of Albany.

Short was regarded as champion in his 147-pound division.

Barr, who will probably be matched by Fred Davi in the Glasco AC Carnival of Champions at muncipal auditorium April 14, earlier had won TKOs over Carl Edwards of Oneonta and Joe Akey of Plattsburgh.

John Culjak, a winner in Monday's card of bouts in Albany, lost a very close decision to Harry Divinich of Rensselaer.

Eddie Kitchcart, another Glasco AC boxer, drew a bye again last night.

But getting back to the Dodgers' failure last season: Dressen said "even with the injuries they had enough stuff on the bench to win. I knew those fellows better; could have gotten more out of them."

It should be mentioned that Walt Alston, the guy who replaced Dressen as Brooklyn manager when Chuck refused to accept a one-year contract, was not within earshot when Dressen held his autopsy. Alston was off with a "B" squad beating Kansas City's Athletics 10-9.

While he was at it, Dressen aimed a jab at the New York Giants' ego. The world champs figure they're set to win again. But Dressen says no. "They got pitching trouble. I think they got to have another pitcher."

ALL OF WHICH must cheer Alston tremendously. But his first-string didn't show all the "stuff" they're supposed to have against the Nats.

The Brooklyns tied it at 3-3 in the ninth when Junior Gilliam came home on Duke Snider's squeeze bunt. But Jesse Levan's pinch single broke it up in the 10th after singles by Roy Sievers and Tom Umphlett and an intentional pass had loaded the bases.

Tom Lasorda was the loser with Bob Porterfield winning. Ed Fitzgerald and Pete Runnels each banged home runs for the Nats off Billy Loes. Fitzgerald suffered a dislocated finger on a foul tip and will be out a week.

BOSTON'S RED SOX also got going late, breaking a 1-1 tie with four eighth inning runs to beat the Pittsburgh Pirates 5-4. The Pirates nicked Ellis Kinder for four hits and a walk in the ninth, but fell short when Toby Atwell grounded out with the winning run on base.

Cleveland held the Chicago Cubs to two hits, but walks and errors gave the Bruins a 3-2 decision.

The Cincinnati Redlegs got to Bobby Tiefenauer for four runs in the ninth, but couldn't catch the St. Louis Cardinals, who scored five on five hits in the last two innings for a 7-6 victory. Tom Alston and Del Rice had three hits each for the Cards, who got one-hit pitching from winner Tony Jacobs over three innings.

Rain washed out the Milwaukee-Philadelphia, Detroit - Baltimore games. The other clubs were not scheduled.

Barr Registers Third Kayo Win

Ken Barr, boxing out of the Glasco Athletic Club, registered his third straight technical knockout in the Adirondack boxing tournament in Albany Tuesday night, this time over Charlie Short of Albany.

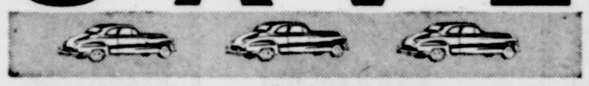

Short was regarded as champion in his 147-pound division.

Barr, who will probably be matched by Fred Davi in the Glasco AC Carnival of Champions at municipal auditorium April 14, earlier had won TKOs over Carl Edwards of Oneonta and Joe Akey of Plattsburgh.

John Culjak, a winner in Monday's card of bouts in Albany, lost a very close decision to Harry Divinich of Rensselaer.

Eddie Kitchcart, another Glasco AC boxer, drew a bye again last night.

Red Wings, Canadiens Are Off to Flying Start

(By The Associated Press)

The defending champion Detroit Red Wings, favored to win the Stanley Cup hockey playoffs, and the Montreal Canadiens, operating with a "two-platoon" system of goalies, are off to flying starts in their best-of-seven semifinal series.

The Wings, who won the NHL championship for the seventh straight season, whipped the Toronto Maple Leafs 7-4 and the Canadiens blanked the Boston Bruins 2-0 in the playoff openers last night.

DETROIT AGAIN entertains Toronto and Montreal plays host to Boston when both series resume tomorrow night.

Dutch Reibel and Gordie Howe were the mainstays in Detroit's victory. Each scored two goals.

After a 2-2 first period, Detroit clicked twice in the second stanza on goals by Glen Skov and Reibel to move ahead 4-2. Howe's pair of tallies and a goal by Ted Lindsay nullified a Toronto comeback in the third period.

COACH DICK IRVIN of Montreal shuttled goalies Jacques Plante, the Canadiens' regular netminder, and Charlie Hodge, recalled from the Montreal Royals of the Quebec Hockey League, back and forth and the straetgy worked.

Bernie (Boom Boom) Geoffrion, the league's leading scorer, and sophomore star Jean Beliveau collected the Canadiens' goals in the second period while Boston was shorthanded.

League President Clarence Campbell, who was attacked last Thursday by Irate Montreal fans over his suspension of Maurice Richard, attended the game and was the object of sporadic booing. Ten policemen were stationed around his box seat.

Patricia McCormick Leads U. S. Swimmers to Victory

Mexico City, March 23 (AP)—The United States took dead aim at three more swimming championship in the Pan-American games today, and in the case of diving queen Patricia McCormick of California, the old story of sticking by the champion still held good.

The 26-year-old Pasadena artist captured the three-meter springboard crown and led the U. S. to a sweep of the first three places in the event yesterday.

ON TAP LATE this afternoon in the National University's ornate Olympic Stadium were gold medal finals in the 400-meter freestyle and 100-meter backstroke for men, and the 100-meter freestyle for women. In each of these events the U. S. swimmers, Wayne Moore in the 400, Buddy Baarcke in the backstroke and Pert Shelley Ann in the women's 100, hung up the best qualifying times last week.

Baarcke might be the lone problem since he is getting over an attack of dysentery.

Athletic combat continued today in such sports as basketball, baseball, water polo and other sports.

The U. S. Women's Basketball team, led by Lurlyne Mealhouse and Ruth Cannon, each with 19 points, whipped Chile 62-43 and won the Pan-American championship.

THE U. S. HAS only to defeat winless Venezuela tonight to annex the men's basketball title, thanks to an upset victory by Brazil over Mexico last night 65-59.

The U. S. overall unofficial scoring continued to soar. The count today stood: U. S. 1,081½, Argentina 467½, Mexico 286½ for the first three teams.

Queen Patricia of the diving ranks won the three-meter title with a total of 142.42 points, pressing her losely all the way through the 10-dive schedule were Jeanne Stunyo, a Detroit University freshman from Gary, Ind., and Emily Houghton from Purdue University at Lafayette, Ind.

Comely Jeanne scored 137.41 points and Emily 133.12. Fourth was Irene MacDonald of Canada at 124.23 and far back in fifth was Lilo Mund, Chile, 108.31.

A Loused Up

Tallahassee, Fla. (AP)—It was a lousy day at the state auditing department. The weather was warm, so someone turned on the air conditioning, only to find that lice-infested birds had built a nest in the intake. Lice were blown all over the office. Quick baths were in order for all hands.

Chicago Executive Buys Yankee Park

West Palm Beach, Fla., March 23 (AP)—New York's Yankee Stadium—The House that Ruth Built—now is the property of John W. Cox, 51-year-old Chicago executive.

Arnold Johnson, owner of the Kansas City Athletics, sold the huge concrete and steel structure yesterday. That brought him within the limits of baseball law, which dictates no owner may have interest in more than one club.

THE NEW OWNER of Yankee Stadium, built in 1923 during Babe Ruth's heyday at a cost of 2½ million dollars, is president of the General Package Corp. of Chicago. Ralph F. George, treasurer of that firm, will be secreary-treasurer of the new Yankee Stadium Corp.

Directors will be Cox, L. K. Hanson of the Continental Can Corp., and John R. Kennedy, president of the Federal Pasteboard Co.

No sale price was disclosed. But Johnson, a rather fabulous business success who bought Yankee Stadium and the Yanks' Kansas City Park for 6½ million dollars in 1953, said "I have been paid in full, either cash or real estate."

The Yankees will continue to use the stadium under a 25-year lease signed in December, 1953, when Johnson bought the property.

Pay as You Enter

Pittsburgh (AP) — The Pittsburgh Railways Co. said it was shocked to learn many commuters who ride its trolleys only a few blocks in the business district were under the impression the ride was free. A checkup showed many persons entered and left by the side doors. Now, the company keeps the side doors closed in the business district. Passengers pay as they enter.

Lakers in Tough Spot, Nats Are Leading Celts

(By The Associated Press)

Minneapolis' reign as champions of the National Basketball Assn. may end tonight.

The Lakers have their backs against the wall following their 98-97 overtime defeat by the Fort Wayne Pistons at Indianapolis last night. It was the second straight defeat for the Lakers in the best-of-five Western Division final playoff series. The third game will be played tonight at Minneapolis and it's a "must game or else" for the Lakers.

MEANTIME the Syracuse Nats took a 1-0 lead over the Boston Celtics in the opening game of their best-of-five final Eastern Division playoff. The Nats, playing at home, won last night 110-100.

Max Zaslofsky's free throw for Ft. Wayne in the final seconds of the overtime was the only score of the extra period.

Whitey Skoog hit for three field goals in the final minute of the fourth period to pull the Lakers into a 97-97 tie. His tying basket came with 8 seconds remaining. Skoog finished with 24 points, and Slater Martin and Paul Mikkelsen each scored 22 for the Lakers. Mel Hutchins was high for Fort Wayne with 20.

JOHNNY KERR and George King sparked the Syracuse attack while Boston's big three—Easy Ed Macauley, Bob Cousy and Bill Sharman, got 51 points.

Kerr, a 6-9 rookie, tallied 27 points and King contributed 21. They provided the Nats with a scoring punch to take a commanding 83-70 third period advantage after leading by only 46-43 at halftime.

The second game of the series will be played at Boston tonight.

Brumley, Robbins In Tennis Lead

St. Augustine, Fla., March 23 (AP)—Judd Brumley, last year's winner, and Tom Robbins, a former champion, came from behind to take opening round victories in the American Seniors Golf Assn. tournament yesterday.

Robbins, from Larchmont, N. Y., beat Billy Goodloe, Sr., of Valdosta, Ga., although two down with four holes to play. He squared the match with a 15-foot birdie putt on the 16th and parred the 18th to win up.

Brumley, of Greenville, Tenn., was one down at the turn but rallied to win 2 up over Bob Wingate of Fayetteville, N. C.

Koslow Adjudged Insane

New York, March 23 (AP)—Jack Koslow, 18, sentenced to life imprisonment in the Brooklyn kill-for-thrill trial, has been adjudged insane. Removed from Elmira Reformatory, he now is in Dannemora State Hospital for the criminal insane. The transfer, made last Thursday, was revealed to newsmen yesterday by Chief Asst. Dist. Atty. Kenneth McCabe.

Irvine Resigns As Vets' Adviser

Gordon F. Irvine of Wallkill has resigned his position as veterans adviser with the Ulster County Veterans Agency and will become associated with the Ulster County Welfare Department as of April first. He will take over the position of Resource Assistant in the Welfare Department, a position which will become vacant at that time due to the retirement of Daniel A. Warren.

Irvine was associated with the Ulster County Veterans Agency as an adviser, resigning that position in 1944 to become "On the Job Training" representative with the New York State Division of Veterans Affairs. In 1951 he returned to the Ulster County Veterans Agency as an adviser and has since held that position.

Short Circuit Stall

New York, March 23 (AP)—Four stations on the IRT's White Plains road line in the Bronx were without service for 26 minutes last night because of a short circuit. The Transit Authority said power on the local tracks between the Simpson street and 177th street stations was shut off from 10:10 to 10:36 p. m. while emergency workers repaired a shorted shoe beam on a northbound train. Following trains were re-routed north over express tracks and bypassed the Simpson street, Freeman street, 174th and 177 street stations.

Irvine Resigns As Vets' Adviser

Gordon F. Irvine of Wallkill has resigned his position as veterans adviser with the Ulster County Veterans Agency and will become associated with the Ulster County Welfare Department as of April first. He will take over the position of Resource Assistant in the Welfare Department, a position which will become vacant at that time due to the retirement of Daniel A. Warren.

Irvine was associated with the Ulster County Veterans Agency as an adviser, resigning that position in 1944 to become "On the Job Training" representative with the New York State Division of Veterans Affairs. In 1951 he returned to the Ulster County Veterans Agency as an adviser and has since held that position.

Short Circuit Stall

New York, March 23 (AP)—Four stations on the IRT's White Plains road line in the Bronx were without service for 26 minutes last night because of a short circuit. The Transit Authority said power on the local tracks between the Simpson street and 177th street stations was shut off from 10:10 to 10:36 p. m. while emergency workers repaired a shorted shoe beam on a northbound train. Following trains were re-routed north over express tracks and bypassed the Simpson street, Freeman street, 174th and 177 street stations.

Yalta Probe

tween the Republican and the Democrats.

Today's news conference dealt almost exclusively with foreign affairs.

Aside from Yalta, there was much discussion on the proposal by Sen. George (D.-Ga.), chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, that the President take the initiative in arranging as soon as practicable for a top level Big Four conference with Russia.

Eisenhower's comment on that proposal was that after ratification of the Paris agreements it will be time to start exploratory talks with Russia, but not at the chiefs-of-state level at the start.

THE PRESIDENT said there was no great difference between his position and George's views. George has called for ratification of the Paris agreements, which provide for rearming Germany, before a big power conference.

April 12th Is

is licensed by the National Institutes of Health, about 18 million persons, mostly children are expected to receive vaccinations this year.

Material for nine million vaccinations for all children in the first and second grades of all public, private and parochial schools and also some in the third grades will be provided by the Polio Foundation which will meet the expense.

This vaccine will be supplied by six pharmaceutical firms, which also are reported planning to supply enough vaccine for another nine million or more vaccinations. The latter group of vaccinations would be made by private physicians, with the patients paying for the vaccine and the doctors' services.

THREE SHOTS — spaced about five weeks apart—are given. Some pharmactutical firms estimate that the retail cost of the vaccine for three shots will be $5 to $6.

If the mass vaccination program is put into effect, the vaccine provided by the polio foundation will be made available to public health officials free of charge for school children of the United States, Hawaii and Alaska.

The foundation, taking a chance that the verdict on the vaccine would be available, ordered the nine million courses of vaccine and spent nine million dollars so that it would be prepared to go to work at once. The pharmaceutical firms, also gambling on the verdict, started making more vaccine than was ordered by the foundation.

LAST YEAR, Salk vaccine was given to 440,000 children in the United States, Canada and Finland. Harmless shots of useless material were given to 210,000 other children, so there could be a comparison of what happened to the two groups during the polio season. Another 1,180,000, given no shots of either kind, were watched to see if they developed polio.

In some areas where the tests were made, there was no revelation whether a child getting shots was receiving the real vaccine. This will be disclosed if the vaccine is approved, and the real vaccine will be offered to the children who got the blank shots. This includes some children in the third grades who took part in the tests.

Glenn Fined $50 For Drunk Driving

Charles Glenn, 52, of 151 Abeel street, was found guilty of a charge of driving while intoxicated in a trial before City Judge Raymond J. Mino today.

The trial was without jury and Judge Mino imposed a fine of $50 and revoked the defendan't license. The fine was paid.

GLENN WAS arrested March 14 by Officer John Crespino, and it was reported that his automobile struck a car operated by Mary Louise Strittar, of 96 Fairmont avenue, as it was parked on Main street near the uptown post office.

Officer Crespino, the driver of the car involved, and Dr. Edward Weissman, who had taken a blood test, were chief witnesses against the defendant. Attorney Louis DiDonna represented the district attorney's office.

JULIA SISCO, 27, of East Chester street extension, who was arrested yesterday on a third degree assault charge, pleaded guilty this morning before Judge Mino and he imposed a fine of $5, payment of which was suspended.

The arrest followed trouble on Pine Grove avenue near Broadway early yesterday afternoon, and police listed Vergene Fisher, of Grant street as the complainant. The information charged "slapping and scratching" during an altercation. Officers Louis Sapp, Jr., and Edward Edwards answered a call to the scene of the trouble.

Pigeons Carry Questionnaires

Cages of homing pigeons were dropped into occupied areas during World War 2 with questionnaires which were filled out by the people and carried back by the pigeons.

Committee Fails

on April 1—just eight days away.

THE SENATE defeated the $20-a-person tax cut by a 61-32 vote. Then it passed the extension of corporate and excise tax rates, as strongly urged by President Eisenhower.

Highly placed House Democrats said they had little or no hope of getting Senate members of the conference committee, or the Senate itself, to change their stand against a tax cut.

Thus, they conceded privately they eventually will have to yield and accept the Senate bill to avoid the threatened big revenue loss from lowered corporate and excise taxes.

Palestin Is Confirmed

Albany, March 23 (AP)—The Senate today confirmed Gov. Harriman's appointment of Ira Palestin of the Bronx as a member of the State Tax Commission. The vote was unanimous. Palestin succeeds F. Roberts Blair of Cold Spring Harbor, L. I., in the $16,400-a-year post. Blair's term expired Dec. 31, 1954.

Now you Know!
The answers to everyday insurance problems*
By HERMAN J. EATON

QUESTION: Some young friends of mine in another town are running a small new business rather successfully but they are heavily in debt both in the business and personally. I've mentioned Business Interruption insurance to them as a good buy but they think they should wait until they are in a little better financial position. What do you think?

ANSWER: Various Business Interruption policies provide gross income, net profit or fixed expense payments during a period when normal business is stopped by fire. A new business such as you describe is the very best type of prospect. Without the insurance how could the owners survive a long period with no income? How would they handle their personal and business obligations?

* If you'll address your own insurance questions to this office we'll try to give you the correct answers and there will be NO CHARGE or OBLIGATION OF ANY KIND.

Mrs. Call to Address Tillson PTA Meeting

MRS. ASA J. CALL

Tillson, March 23—Mrs. Asa J. Call, district director of the New York State Congress of Parents and Teachers, Inc., of Tomkins Cove, Rockland county, will be guest speaker at the next meeting of the Tillson School Association. Meetings of the association are generally held the first Thursday of the month but due to Holy Week the next meeting will take place Thursday evening, March 31.

Yalta Probe

tween the Republican and the Democrats.

Today's news conference dealt almost exclusively with foreign affairs.

Aside from Yalta, there was much discussion on the proposal by Sen. George (D.-Ga.), chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, that the President take the initiative in arranging as soon as practicable for a top level Big Four conference with Russia.

Eisenhower's comment on that proposal was that after ratification of the Paris agreements it will be time to start exploratory talks with Russia, but not at the chiefs-of-state level at the start.

THE PRESIDENT said there was no great difference between his position and George's views. George has called for ratification of the Paris agreements, which provide for rearming Germany, before a big power conference.

April 12th Is

is licensed by the National Institutes of Health, about 18 million persons, mostly children are expected to receive vaccinations this year.

Material for nine million vaccinations for all children in the first and second grades of all public, private and parochial schools and also some in the third grades will be provided by the Polio Foundation which will meet the expense.

This vaccine will be supplied by six pharmaceutical firms, which also are reported planning to supply enough vaccine for another nine million or more vaccinations. The latter group of vaccinations would be made by private physicians, with the patients paying for the vaccine and the doctors' services.

THREE SHOTS — spaced about five weeks apart—are given. Some pharmactutical firms estimate that the retail cost of the vaccine for three shots will be $5 to $6.

If the mass vaccination program is put into effect, the vaccine provided by the polio foundation will be made available to public health officials free of charge for school children of the United States, Hawaii and Alaska.

The foundation, taking a chance that the verdict on the vaccine would be available, ordered the nine million courses of vaccine and spent nine million dollars so that it would be prepared to go to work at once. The pharmaceutical firms, also gambling on the verdict, started making more vaccine than was ordered by the foundation.

LAST YEAR, Salk vaccine was given to 440,000 children in the United States, Canada and Finland. Harmless shots of useless material were given to 210,000 other children, so there could be a comparison of what happened to the two groups during the polio season. Another 1,180,000, given no shots of either kind, were watched to see if they developed polio.

In some areas where the tests were made, there was no revelation whether a child getting shots was receiving the real vaccine. This will be disclosed if the vaccine is approved, and the real vaccine will be offered to the children who got the blank shots. This includes some children in the third grades who took part in the tests.

About 75 Americans go blind each day.

By HERMAN J. EATON

QUESTION: Some young friends of mine in another town are running a small new business rather successfully but they are heavily in debt both in the business and personally. I've mentioned Business Interruption insurance to them as a good buy but they think they should wait until they are in a little better financial position. What do you think?

ANSWER: Various Business Interruption policies provide gross income, net profit or fixed expense payments during a period when normal business is stopped by fire. A new business such as you describe is the very best type of prospect. Without the insurance how could the owners survive a long period with no income? How would they handle their personal and business obligations?

* If you'll address your own insurance questions to this office we'll try to give you the correct answers and there will be NO CHARGE or OBLIGATION OF ANY KIND.

Glenn Fined $50 ForDrunkDriving

Charles Glenn, 52, of 151 Abeel street, was found guilty of a charge of driving while intoxicated in a trial before City Judge Raymond J. Mino today.

The trial was without jury and Judge Mino imposed a fine of $50 and revoked the defendan't license. The fine was paid.

GLENN WAS arrested March 14 by Officer John Crespino, and it was reported that his automobile struck a car operated by Mary Louise Strittar, of 96 Fairmont avenue, as it was parked on Main street near the uptown post office.

Officer Crespino, the driver of the car involved, and Dr. Edward Weissman, who had taken a blood test, were chief witnesses against the defendant. Attorney Louis DiDonna represented the district attorney's office.

JULIA SISCO, 27, of East Chester street extension, who was arrested yesterday on a third degree assault charge, pleaded guilty this morning before Judge Mino and he imposed a fine of $5, payment of which was suspended.

The arrest followed trouble on Pine Grove avenue near Broadway early yesterday afternoon, and police listed Vergene Fisher, of Grant street as the complainant. The information charged "slapping and scratching" during an altercation. Officers Louis Sapp, Jr., and Edward Edwards answered a call to the scene of the trouble.

Committee Fails

on April 1—just eight days away.

THE SENATE defeated the $20-a-person tax cut by a 61-32 vote. Then it passed the extension of corporate and excise tax rates, as strongly urged by President Eisenhower.

Highly placed House Democrats said they had little or no hope of getting Senate members of the conference committee, or the Senate itself, to change their stand against a tax cut.

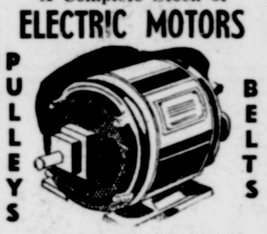

Thus, they conceded privately they eventually will have to yield and accept the Senate bill to avoid the threatened big revenue loss from lowered corporate and excise taxes.

Palestin Is Confirmed

Albany, March 23 (AP)—The Senate today confirmed Gov. Harriman's appointment of Ira Palestin of the Bronx as a member of the State Tax Commission. The vote was unanimous. Palestin succeeds F. Roberts Blair of Cold Spring Harbor, L. I., in the $16,400-a-year post. Blair's term expired Dec. 31, 1954.
